EDITOR'S

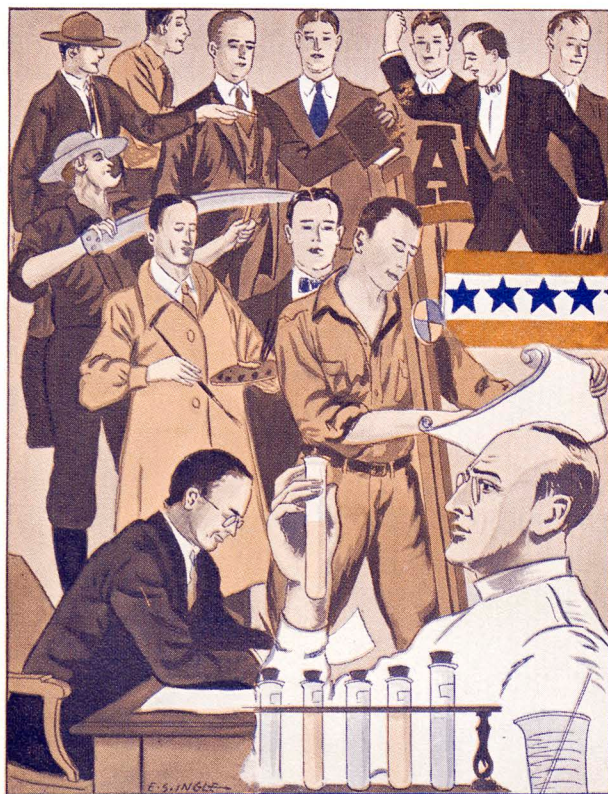

The Razorback of 1934 is a book conceived and constructed as a tribute to the future of University of Arkansas students. Its aim is to portray symbolically the eight basic vocations for which we are preparing ourselves. Its purpose is to inspire greater efforts, that each of us may attain success in his chosen field.

In the drawings reproduced on the eight division pages which separate the sections of this book, we present one by one the vocations in which our students will be engaged ten, twenty, thirty years from now. We have sought to picture them for you by bringing together in each drawing all the tools and symbols commonly associated with the vocation represented.

As we have built this book we have built a dream of the future. To the future, and to the success of University of Arkansas students as they progress in their future work, we dedicate this volume of the Razorback.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

J. C. Fuhrall.

There come times in the history of every nation when the existing order of things is seriously questioned. This condition almost always arises in great financial and industrial depressions such as the world has been passing through for more than four years past.

Much less than a hundred years ago public education as we know it hardly existed in the south. The general opinion was that education was for gentlemen and the children of gentlemen, and that class was expected to provide its own schools.

One of the most remarkable things in the history of our nation is the rapidity with which the public school idea became entrenched in the minds and hearts of the people. At first limited to the elementary grades, it was then extended to the high schools and to institutions of higher education and professional and technical schools.

A few years ago most of us thought that the aim which the people had set for themselves, namely, to put elementary, secondary and higher education within the reach of all citizens capable of profiting by such education, and in institutions supported at public expense, would be attained and held.

In the last few years, however, the onslaughts that have been made upon public schools of all kinds have drastically decreased their revenues, have crippled practically every public school in the land, and have actually made it impossible for many of the young people of the country to secure any schooling whatever at public expense.

If this condition continues, it is the great masses of the people who will suffer. Their lack of education will, in the next generation, inevitably react unfavorably on the welfare of the nation. Keen observers in foreign lands are of the opinion that the high level of education that exists in the United States at the present time is the one thing that has held the ship of state on an even keel and has prevented revolutionary disturbances such as have taken place in many other countries.

THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE

J. M. Futrell.

The University of this State is becoming more and more useful beyond training the young women and men of this state and elsewhere. It is entering more into the economic and business life of the state. More and more, it is attempting to solve difficult questions which concern us. The field of its efforts in this direction should gradually expand.

The present depression, the greatest in all history, has caused a general discussion more earnestly than ever before of economic questions. The rapid increase in development by invention, machinery and processes have so displaced men and women in useful employment that serious dislocations and maladjustments have resulted. To take up this slack, it is said that the hours of labor must be reduced. The plan is to reduce labor to four hours per day. Will that be best for man? To those who make use of spare hours in useful study, improvement will come. What about those who will not so employ their spare time? Is it, or is it not, best for mankind generally to be employed as much as eight hours per day with proper vacations?

Our Universities are best prepared to make careful research and study of these questions, and to assist in the solution of many vexing problems which the developments of this age have brought. May the usefulness of the University of Arkansas gradually expand as the days go by, and be equal to fully perform its duties towards the welfare of the country!

GRADUATE SCHOOL

In these days of depression, I am often asked for my opinion as to the advisability of a student's entering upon graduate work after the completion of his college course. Particular cases are best left to the judgment of the student himself; but in general I have certain convictions.

I believe that the maximum in undergraduate enrollment has been reached, at least for some years. Few additional teachers will therefore be needed. This fact has considerable bearing on the matter of graduate study, inasmuch as many persons take up graduate study primarily as a means to advancement in the teaching profession. I believe that many people should be discouraged from beginning graduate work; but I believe just as firmly that able students should be encouraged even more than they have been in the past.

The depression will have been of much benefit if it forces us to improve the quality of our graduate students, a result of great value if it raises the standard of our teachers, and if it develops scholars who are capable of adding to the world's knowledge.

Dean John Clark Jordan.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

As we approach the end of the year, one of the most profound economic and social revolution that the United States has ever known, we may well ask, "Is there a future for the College of Liberal Arts?" The answer to the question is closely bound up with the future of democracy, which itself is based upon the Jeffersonian belief in the possibilities of the man who starts his career without wealth, family connections, or any stepping stone to position, except ability and character. In that belief, Jefferson did his last and greatest work — he founded the University of Virginia. If the opportunity for free and humane and individual development is to be denied the born leaders of democracy, the colleges of liberal arts and democracy will alike perish from America. No believer in democracy can look with equanimity upon the possible regimentation of its youth into any system that limits the spirit of intellectual adventure and soul-discovery that has marked the best of the colleges. The college must keep abreast of the powerful flow of human thought and aspirations, but it must not be swallowed by a system, for slavery to a system would mark the end of organized education as a vital element in human progress, and, as yet, we have nothing to take its place.

Dean Virgil L. Jones.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

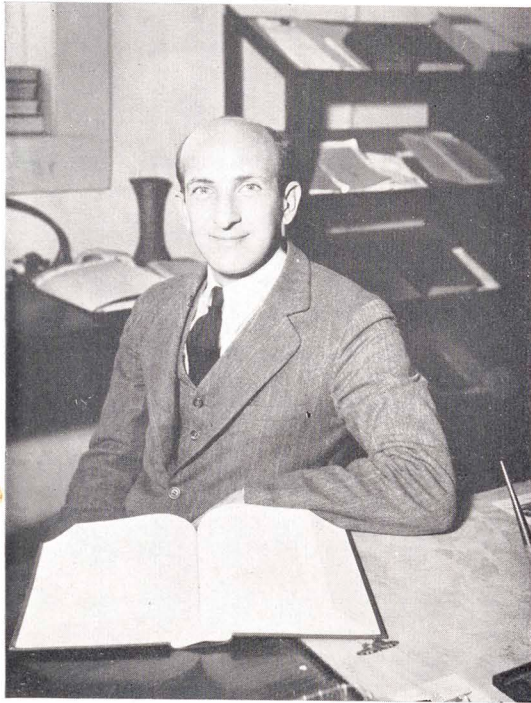

An engineer, in utilizing the forces of nature and directing men, may find his field of usefulness in serving society as a professional engineer. As such, he may teach, engage in research, or advise others. Such men should have mastered the physical sciences and mathematics, have a good working knowledge of English and economics, and be proficient in one or more branches of engineering.

The man with aptitude for engineering, but having a lesser knowledge of the fundamentals, may find useful employment in production, installation and operation of machinery, estimation or appraisal of utilities, or buying and selling. The training one receives in an engineering college fits him for service in a number of fields but, should he find himself in some other vocation, the training he has received will be of great benefit to him in any line of endeavor in which accurate calculations and correct reasoning are required.

Our College of Engineering is well equipped for training men in the fundamentals. Our faculty is small in number but every man has been chosen because of his ability and high standing in the field that he represents. Our laboratories, supplied with a limited number of the best available instruments and machines, offer excellent opportunities for the graduate student, as well as the undergraduate.

Dean W. N. Gladson.

SCHOOL OF LAW

The School of Law in June, 1934, will have been in existence for ten years. Its enrollment in that time has increased from seventeen students to over one hundred and ten. Such an enrollment demonstrates that there was a need in Arkansas for a University law school of the type which met the standards of legal education laid down by the American Bar Association and the Association of American Law Schools.

Despite the marked decrease in the income of the University, it is hoped that the requirements set by the standardizing agencies for legal education can be met in the future by the Law School of the University of Arkansas.

When the Class of 1934 is graduated, ninety young men will have received the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Of these at least seventy-five remained in Arkansas.

Since the creation of the School of Law in 1924, the honor system has been in effect to some extent. But in the fall of 1933 the law students organized an honor council, composed entirely of students. For the first time they became the active force in the operation of that system, which has worked so well in many southern institutions. Of all the advances which the School of Law has made in the past ten years, this achievement is by far the most noteworthy.

Dean J. S. Waterman.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

The major function of the College of Education with reference to teacher training is two-fold, guidance and preparation. In the preparation of teachers the College depends largely on the subject-matter departments of the other divisions of the University, articulating the work of these departments for the needs of the prospective teachers and supplementing their efforts with appropriate courses of a professional nature. In performing the guidance function the College attempts to represent the interests of the prospective teachers in all colleges of the University. While other divisions enroll students who expect to teach, the College of Education is vested with the responsibility for leadership in the University's training program, a responsibility which involves the continuous study of problems of placement and of improved articulation between college preparation and work in the field.

Dean C. E. Prall.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The School of Business Administration has two fundamental aims. First, curricula are organized to give students instruction in liberal arts subjects, including economics and sociology, which assist in the understanding of broad social relationships. Second, courses of training in accounting, banking and finance, marketing, statistics, management, etc., are offered for those contemplating careers in business or public administration.

Since March, 1933, many rights and powers of private business have been taken over by the Federal government. Whether this assumption of control over business policy will work out to the best interest of all cannot be answered at this time. The need for trained administrators, however, is in no way diminished by this so-called "social revolution," for the experiment, to be successful, requires that the government seek for posts of responsibility the most efficient and socially-minded of its citizens. Economic laws are immutable whatever be the form of social organization and government. Administration of private or public enterprise will be soundest when entrusted to persons of good judgment on the long run effects and implications of economic policy. To develop this faculty of sound judgment based on thorough analysis and straight thinking has always been the major objective of the School.

Dean C. C. Fichtner.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

As history goes, the College of Agriculture of the University of Arkansas is one of the new colleges of the University. Originally, the University was not divided according to present designations, although courses in agriculture were offered almost from the opening — January 22, 1872 — of the University. However, the College of Agriculture was not established under its present name until 1905, twenty-nine years ago.

As educational matters are reckoned, the College of Agriculture of this University is, therefore, only a baby. Many other states have similar colleges more than twice as old. Although this college is young, it has widespread influence within our own state — and outside the borders of the state as well — through the work of its graduates, and through the influence of its published literature. The business of the College of Agriculture does not consist wholly in finding and training young men and women for leadership in Arkansas, but that is one of its chief jobs — the other two jobs consist of research and extension work. That the job of developing leadership is being pursued vigorously is evidenced by the fact that the college now has approximately 180 of its graduates in positions of public leadership in Arkansas — to say nothing of those who have gone to other states and countries — and still others have a part in the business and agricultural life of the state.

Dean Dan T. Gray.

DEAN OF MEN

It is doubtful if any person, besides the writer and proofreader, reads this article. However, the editor is calling for two hundred words to use in the nineteen hundred thirty-four Razorback and it is up to the writer to furnish these words so that there will not be a blank page in the thirty-four Razorback.

It would be an easy and interesting task if some of the many confidential conversations were given, but that must not be done. Better that this page be left a blank than to betray a confidence.

The Dean of Men has the wonderful opportunity of working with youth, of trying to maintain his own youth so that a better understanding may exist between student and dean, and of acquiring through all this the confidence of worth-while youth engaged in worth-while tasks. It is a work which is both interesting and inspiring and ever calls for the best he can give.

The personal work, and I consider this work the most important, has increased rapidly in the past three or four years. It touches every phase of student life, provides an interesting fund of information as to what is going on in the minds of the students, and affords an excellent opportunity to advise, to aid, to influence, and to contribute toward character building in the student body. One cannot ask for a more important duty than this.

Dean G. E. Ripley.

DEAN OF WOMEN

It is a far cry from the day when Mary Lyon, acting as president, dean, teacher and nurse, gathered about her at Mt. Holyoke a little group of women eager for higher education, to the present day, when colleges count their women students by hundreds and universities number theirs by thousands.

The organization of an office equipped to keep in touch with these larger groups, and to maintain successful co-operation with chaperons, house mothers, and matrons, that they may function wisely and well, is one of the most essential duties of a dean and the importance of this administrative side of the work cannot be too strongly emphasized.

But the dean of women must also be alert to the intellectual movements of the day and must be able to give sane advice upon the academic questions which at times become problems in the minds of the women students. To inspire confidence, she must have studied these problems herself and from her own experience be prepared to give generous sympathy and wise counsel.

So well known is the office of the dean of women as the center of social activities that it is not necessary to dwell on this phase of the work. Here is arranged a schedule of social activities as varied as the tastes of the different groups — a schedule of interest alike to men and women students.

Administrative, academic, social, such is the threefold aspect of the work of a dean of women in a University such as Arkansas.

STUDENT SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Drastic changes in policy marked the sixth year of the Student Social Committee's supervision over student dances. Prices per male were reduced to fifty cents, and the committee still showed a favorable balance at the end of the season, a thing previously marked "impossible" at that low price. Two "feature hops", one an all-corduroy affair and the other a fancy dress ball, were given with much success during the student boycott on local cleaners. Fewer student dances than in years previous were scheduled second semester to make way for many requests from fraternal and other campus organizations.

Surplus funds, instead of being used to send student representatives to the Student Federation convention as in past years, were employed in purchasing a radio for the University Infirmary, building a trophy case, and in paying some of the Associated Students debts of 1932-33.

The committee performed its customary task of allotting dates on the social calendar, handling conduct at all social functions, and conducting student social activities in general.

The Carnall Hall Governing Board is the discipline committee of the girls' dormitory. It has been a functioning unit of that institution since the establishment of student government at the University of Arkansas.

The board is composed of representatives from the various classes elected in proportionate number by the girls who live in Carnall Hall. Its purpose is to promote a feeling of responsibility among the girls, to administer discipline, and to look after their welfare.

Among its duties are the staging of dances and other social events and keeping down unnecessary noise.

COACH FRED C. THOMSEN

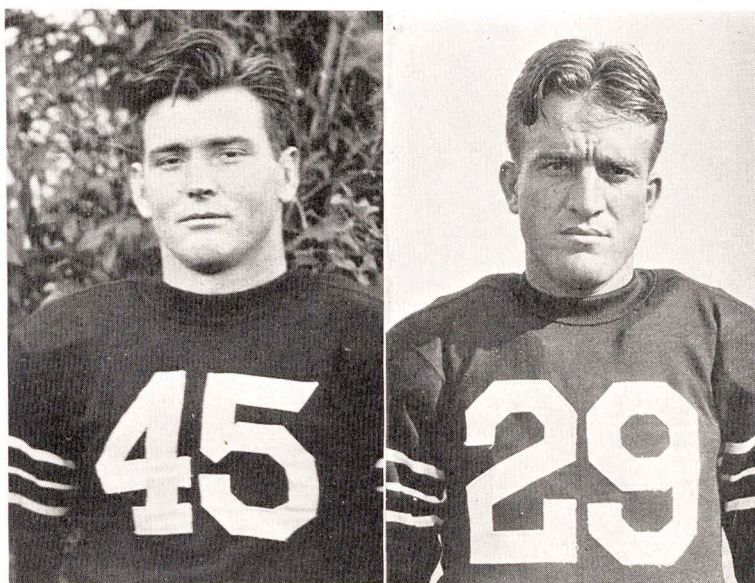

We present the 1933 Razorback football team — Southwest Conference leaders, but not Southwest Conference champions. At least that's what conference officials say. It seems that the University of Arkansas eleven, in spite of its achievement in winning four and losing only one of its conference encounters, is not to be accorded the title of champion. Why? Because of a certain ineligible player in the Porker ranks who played a grand total of ten minutes in loop games, his ineligibility unknown to our coaches and players.

We have nothing further to say about the matter—except this: the student body is strong in the conviction that the 1933 Razorback aggregation was the outstanding team in the Southwest; as far as we are concerned there isn't the slightest doubt about this championship business. Arkansas' record tells a story of a highly successful season, and to Coach Thomsen and his team we extend our heartiest congratulations.

ARKANSAS' "NEW DEAL" IN ATHLETICS

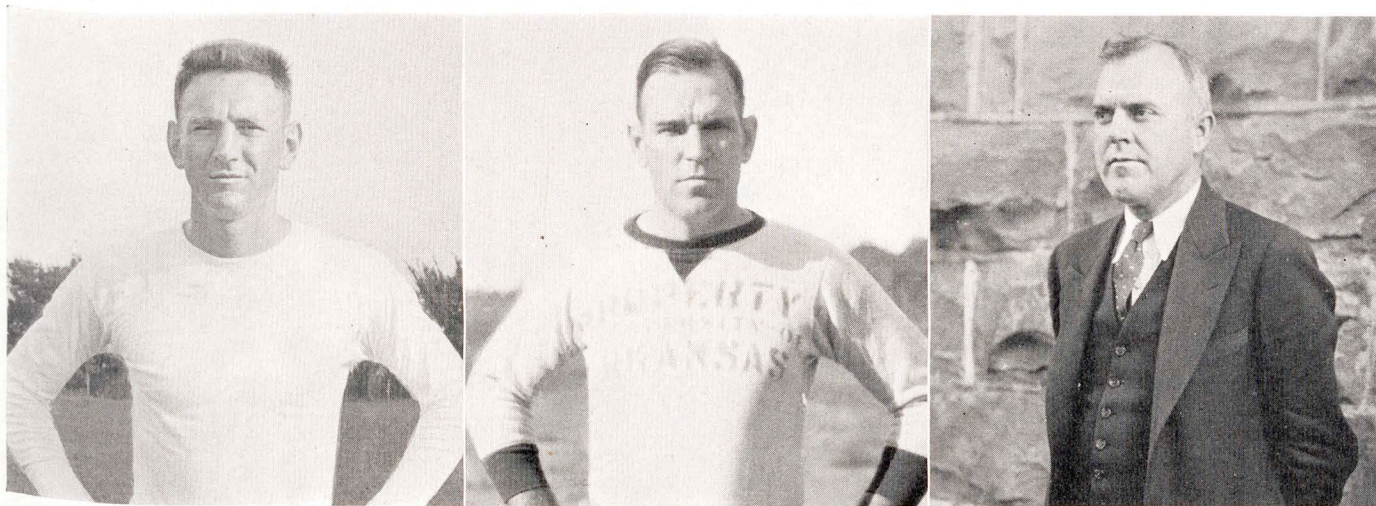

LEWIE "RED" JOHNSON

TOM MURPHY
Sub-Captain

When University of Arkansas students returned to school last September, they found that there had been some changes made in the athletic situation. There was a new business manager of athletics, an energetic fellow named Boyd Cypert. Then there was a new freshman coach, Brad Scott. And Glen Rose had stepped up to "Chuck" Bassett's old place as line coach and Coach Thomsen's right-hand man. Soon afterward it was announced that Dean J. S. Waterman was appointed chairman of the Athletic Council to succeed B. N. Wilson. It is no wonder that somebody dubbed the program "the new deal in athletics."

As the football season progressed, this title assumed even greater significance. The student body and the state awoke to the realization that the 1933 team had real championship possibilities. With student and alumni spirit at a new high, a determined and powerful Razorback football machine showed appreciation by mowing down opponent after opponent. Result: Arkansas' 1933 eleven stands at the head of the list among Southwest Conference teams. Conference record — four wins and one loss. Season record — seven wins, three losses, and one tie.

We like this "new deal."

THE SEASON IN BRIEF

The march of the 1933 Razorbacks to win the Southwest Conference top position is an important chapter in University of Arkansas athletic history. Coach Thomsen had the best squad in years to mold into championship material, and also the toughest schedule ever to confront an Arkansas team. Of the ten games in the regular season, the Razorbacks lost but three, bowing to L. S. U., Rice, and Tulsa University. A post-season game was played at Dallas with Centenary, ending in a 7-7 tie. The conference competition was unusually keen, fraught with numerous upsets, and the Razorbacks had tough going to overcome the strong opposition and come out on top.

ARKANSAS—40

COLLEGE OF THE OZARKS—0

Three Razorback teams, with one showing equally as well as the other, took turns at steam-rolling their way to victory over the Mountaineers in the opening game of the season. To Ralph LaForge goes credit for the first touchdown of the season, accomplished after a dazzling dash of 78 yards. After that scoring continued steadily, with Paul Rucker the next to cross the line. In the final period Criswell and Murphy smashed over for markers, Earl Hagan adding four of the extra points with perfect placement kicks out of six tries. The entire Arkansas forward wall starred, holding the Mountaineers to a single first down.

ARKANSAS—42
OKLAHOMA BAPTIST UNIVERSITY—7

The second Razorback touchdown parade again featured three teams as the Porkers crushed the Bisons of O. B. U. Paul Rucker scored first when he took Murphy's pass in the first quarter and crossed the goal line unmolested. Rees and Biddle smashed through the Bison line for two additional touchdowns before the half ended. The high spot of the game was on the opening play of the second half, when LaForge took the kickoff on the ten-yard stripe and raced 90 yards behind perfect interference for touchdown number four. Biddle scored again; then Clark Jordan, with twin-brother George Jordan kicking goal for extra point. The Razorbacks were touchdown-bound as the game ended.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY—0

The Porker gridders definitely stepped into Southwest Conference limelight with a sensational defeat of Schmidt's boys from T. C. U.—turning the tables on the Horned Frogs for the first time since 1927. Ralph LaForge, in the game about four minutes, accounted for both Arkansas touchdowns, making the first on the opening kickoff at the start of the game by repeating his performance against O. B. U. and dashing 90 yards behind well organized interference. Murphy's excellent punts paved the way for the second touchdown. The entire Arkansas team functioned as if inspired, and no one person could be chosen as responsible for the victory. It was a great ball game, and one which made sport fans everywhere sit up and wonder.

BAYLOR—7

The scene is Kavanaugh Field, Little Rock. The occasion is the second step in the Razorbacks' climb to Southwest Conference supremacy. The game is chiefly remembered as a veritable grab-bag of surprises. For example, the first touchdown was a gift from Captain Johnson before the game was two minutes old, when he covered a Bear fumble behind the line. In the next period Baylor took the lead, 7-6, and for many an agonizing minute 6500 fans thought Arkansas was licked. Then the twin Jordan boys got together on a pass, Clark to George, and up went six more points for Arkansas. On the next play after the kickoff, Brennan, a substitute end, took a Baylor pass in mid-air and gave the Razorbacks a final touchdown. Murphy's fine generalship and punting were features of the game.

ARKANSAS—0

LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY—20

With Murphy out of the game entirely, and Johnson, Criswell, Biddle, and Spivey on the injured list, tired and hot Arkansas gridmen battled in vain against a powerful L. S. U. team for the entertainment of the Louisiana State Fair crowd. The Tigers utilized a brilliant aerial and running attack, and only the determined Razorback goal line stands prevented even further scoring. Choice Rucker played a neat defensive game in the Arkansas backfield, and Clark Jordan turned in several startling broken field runs. But the steadying influence and guiding hand of the veteran Murphy were sorely missed, and without his inspiration it was a demoralized team which went down in defeat that day.

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY—0

A field goal from the educated right toe of Elvin Geiser and two sensational touchdown-stopping tackles by Tom Murphy sent 6,000 frenzied homecomers into delightful doldrums and Ray Morrison's pupils from S. M. U. into deepest gloom, as the Hog eleven took a closely contested Homecoming battle from the Mustangs. Twice Arkansas' brilliant field general pulled the game out of the fire for the home team by coming up from behind to halt Fuqua in his otherwise unobstructed dashes for the goal. Then, just as the game seemed destined to end in a tie, Geiser's field goal brought victory. Both line and backfield men showed excellent pass defense when S. M. U. uncorked its famous aerial attack in the closing minutes.

RICE INSTITUTE—7

After taking a touchdown lead late in the third period the Razorbacks faltered temporarily—just long enough for the battered Rice Owls to come to life and surprise everyone concerned by winning their first conference skirmish at Arkansas' expense. It was also Arkansas' first and only conference loss. The Owls staged a 60-yard march down the field to score in the last ten minutes of play; a successful try for extra point cinched the game for them. Arkansas scored earlier in the game following an exchange of punts which gave the Porkers the ball on the 50-yard line. A series of passes resulted in the touchdown. With only two minutes left to play, Murphy tore through the center of the line and reached the Rice 27-yard marker before being nailed from behind. The run looked certain for a touchdown. A try for a field goal failed.

HENDRIX—0

With Razorback linemen clearing huge gaps in the Bulldog defense and Razorback ball carriers crossing the goal line with clockwork regularity, the Arkansas-Hendrix fracas was little more than an extended track meet. Three teams alternated in white-washing the team from downstate; thereby avenging a humiliating scoreless tie of last year. Criswell, the Jordans, and Geiser made good gains in one consistent goal line drive after another. Black, Newby, and Rucker led the Arkansas forward wall, with Measel also contributing much to the work of the line.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS—6

By way of a glorious conclusion to the conference schedule, Arkansas gridmen took the highly-touted Texas team to the tune of 20 to 6; this victory virtually assuring the Porkers of Southwest conference supremacy. Texas took the lead in the first quarter. A blocked punt which put the ball on the Longhorn's 13-yard line made the first Arkansas touchdown possible. The second came when Rucker passed to "Muddy" Lake, lanky end, who eluded tacklers and dashed 30 yards for the score. LaForge intercepted Fagan's pass early in the second half and skirted the sidelines in a 35-yard touchdown run which wound up scoring for the day. Stubborn Razorback linemen successfully held off Texas scoring threats in the final period.

ARKANSAS—0

TULSA UNIVERSITY—7

Arkansas went down in stubborn submission to a strong Tulsa U. team before a Thanksgiving day crowd of 18,000 fans assembled in Tulsa's Skelly Stadium. This final game of the regular season was uneventful except for the work of Porker defense men in stopping Tulsa's speedy backs before they managed to cross the line and ring up more points for the entertainment of home town spectators. Arkansas' ball carriers could not seem to get going, and their gains were not consistent enough to bring about scores. Murphy played his usual good game, and Lake made several gains on a passing attack staged by the local eleven in the final periods.

CENTENARY—7

Although the Gentlemen from Centenary managed to maintain their record of no defeats in two years, they were not able to do any more than tie Arkansas' Southwest Conference leaders. The occasion was a charity benefit game at Dallas on New Year's day. A long drive down the field placed the Razorbacks in scoring position early in the second quarter; a pass from Murphy to Geiser led to the touchdown. Geiser also kicked for the extra point. The Gents came back in the second half to score. Though the try for extra point was wide, an Arkansas man was offside, and on the second try Centenary made the kick good to tie the game. A long pass from Murphy to Lake in the final quarter advanced the ball to the Centenary 7-yard line, but the Porkers were unable to score.

THINGS YOU MIGHT NEVER KNOW

—If We Didn't Tell You

Sixty-one thousand customers saw the Razorbacks play in ten games during the 1933 season—approximately 25,000 more than saw the 1932 team in action. There were 17,000 Turkey Day fans at the Tulsa game and 12,000 at the L. S. U. battle in Shreveport.

* * * *

For the first time in Arkansas pigskin history, eleven games were played in the season. The extra match was a New Year's Day classic at Dallas with Centenary.

* * * *

Many individual honors came to Razorback gridmen this year. Tom Murphy was awarded the handsome Houston Post Trophy for being the most valuable player in the conference. Incidentally, this is the second time the honor has come to Arkansas, since "Bevo" Beavers received the trophy in 1928. Arkansas is the only school to win the award twice.

* * * *

Murphy was also unanimous choice for all-conference quarterback and was given honorable mention on Grantland Rice's All-American team and on that chosen by the Associated Press. Paul Rucker and Ralph LaForge received honorable mention on the Associated Press team and also took conference honors in their positions.

* * * *

Three married men were regulars on the Hog eleven this year. They were Captain Red Johnson, Sub-Captain Tom Murphy, and Emil "Dutch" Boepple. And speaking of family relationships, there was also an uncle and nephew combination. Paul Rucker is uncle to Quarterback Al Harriss.

* * * *

Athletes must eat, so they go about it by getting some sort of job. Arkansas' captains in three major sports are working their way through school. Football Captain Johnson scrubs pans in the Kappa Sig kitchen; Basketball Captain Brasfield is a grocery boy; and Track Captain Gower is housemaid at the Theta Kappa Nu house.

* * * *

Speaking of strange jobs, Center Gus Eidson sleeps at the jail—he sees to it that the prisoners are nice and comfy. Then you'll always find a couple of football players at the fire-house ready to fight the flames if things get too hot.

* * * *

A pair of six-footers will lead the Porkers over the chalk stripes in 1934. "Footsie" Benton, 200-pound tackle from Fordyce, and Paul Rucker, lanky end, have been named captain and sub-captain, respectively, of next year's Razorback squad.

* * * *

Things look bright for next fall. Only three graduated from this year's championship squad: Johnson, Murphy, and Biddle. Twenty-four men received varsity letters and 23 received freshman numerals. Then, too, several promising junior college men are expected to report at the Razorback camp next September.

THE SEASON IN BRIEF

Razorback basketeers developed a "split-the-series" complex this year which hounded them throughout the season. Arkansas met six conference opponents in twelve games, took a win and a loss from each team, and wound up with a .500 average to place third in Southwest Conference competition.

CHRISTMAS TRIP

After opening the season on the home court with two wins over the Tahlequah Teachers, Razorback basketball players left at the beginning of the Christmas holidays for an extended tour. The first game of the trip was lost to the Springfield Teachers, 16 to 13, but the other opponents crumpled easily under the Hog strength. Arkansas took a game from the Diamond Oilers at Fort Smith, beat the State Teachers at Conway, walloped the strong Colonial Bakers at Little Rock in two battles, and in the final encounter of the trip avenged the earlier loss by taking the Springfield Teachers, 22 to 15.

CONFERENCE SEASON

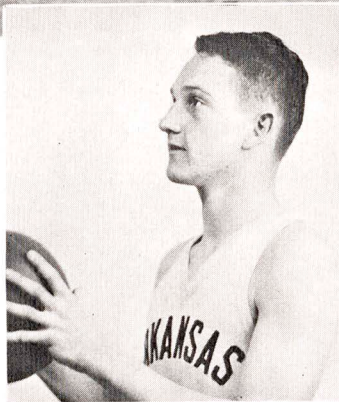

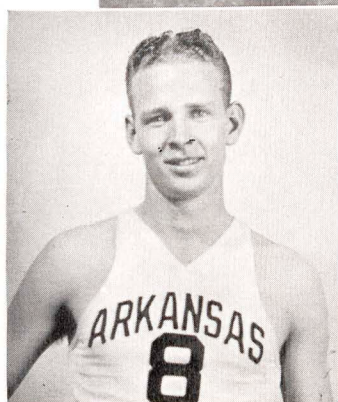

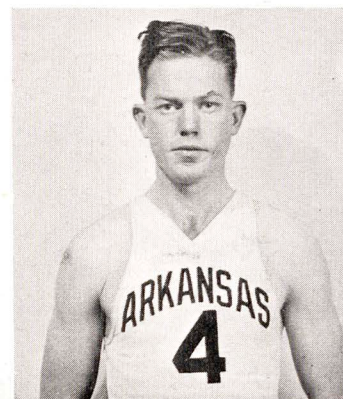

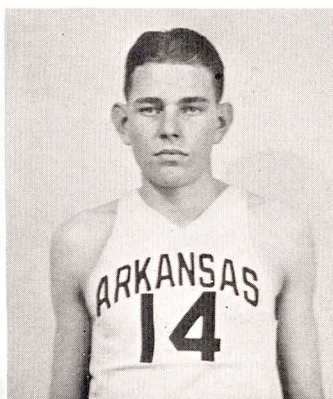

With the exception of one series with Tulsa and one with Oklahoma A. and M., Arkansas court stars devoted the rest of the season to the conference schedule. The championship T. C. U. squad bowed to the Razorbacks in the first game, but came out ahead on the second. Early in February Coach Rose took his men to Waco, where they divided a series with Baylor. The Texas games here were among the most interesting on the schedule, both ending with just a few points difference in the score. Again the series was divided. At Houston Arkansas battled Rice, winning the first game and losing the second, and at that time had a fighting chance for second place in the loop. From Houston the team dropped by College Station and again put on the fifty-fifty act, this time with Texas A. and M. as the opposition. Early in March the season closed with two games in Fayetteville against the Mustangs from S. M. U., the local lads winning the first and losing the second. After the party was all over Arkansas was in third place with six wins and six losses.

ABOUT THE PLAYERS

Varsity "A" letters in basketball were awarded to Taft Moody, Captain Brasfield, Ike Poole, Paul Rucker, Elstner Beall, Jack Newby, Jim Lee Howell, and John Fulton. Reserve letters were given to Garland Wheeler and Elbert Cunningham.

Taft Moody took high scoring honors for the season, with a total of 218 points in 22 games played. H. L. Poole, with 180 points scored in 24 games, was second. Arkansas' defensive play was more outstanding than its scoring power, according to some sports writers, and the guards deserve full credit for limiting opponents' scoring as well as they did.

Captain Brasfield was awarded the department trophy presented each year to the varsity letterman making the highest percentage of his free throws count. Brasfield's average was .716.

Prospects for next year indicate a good season, since most of the players this year were sophomores who will benefit by the experience they received in varsity play this year. Taft Moody has been chosen as captain of the 1935 squad.

Minor Sports

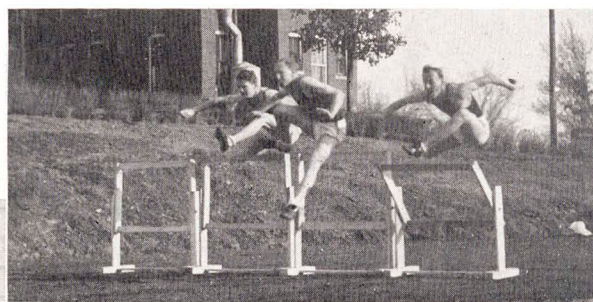

TRACK

The Arkansas track team, at the time this book went to press, had defeated Missouri School of Mines in a dual contest, 80 to 51, and had a tentative schedule including the following meets: Dual contests with the Springfield Teachers and Tulsa University, a triangular meet at Clarksville, and the Southwest Conference meet, for which Razorback track men journeyed to Dallas early in May. Plans were also under consideration to send a team to the famous Kansas Relays.

TENNIS

The University of Arkansas had prospects for the best tennis team in many years during this past season, with five letter men returned from last year and several outstanding reserve men and newcomers.

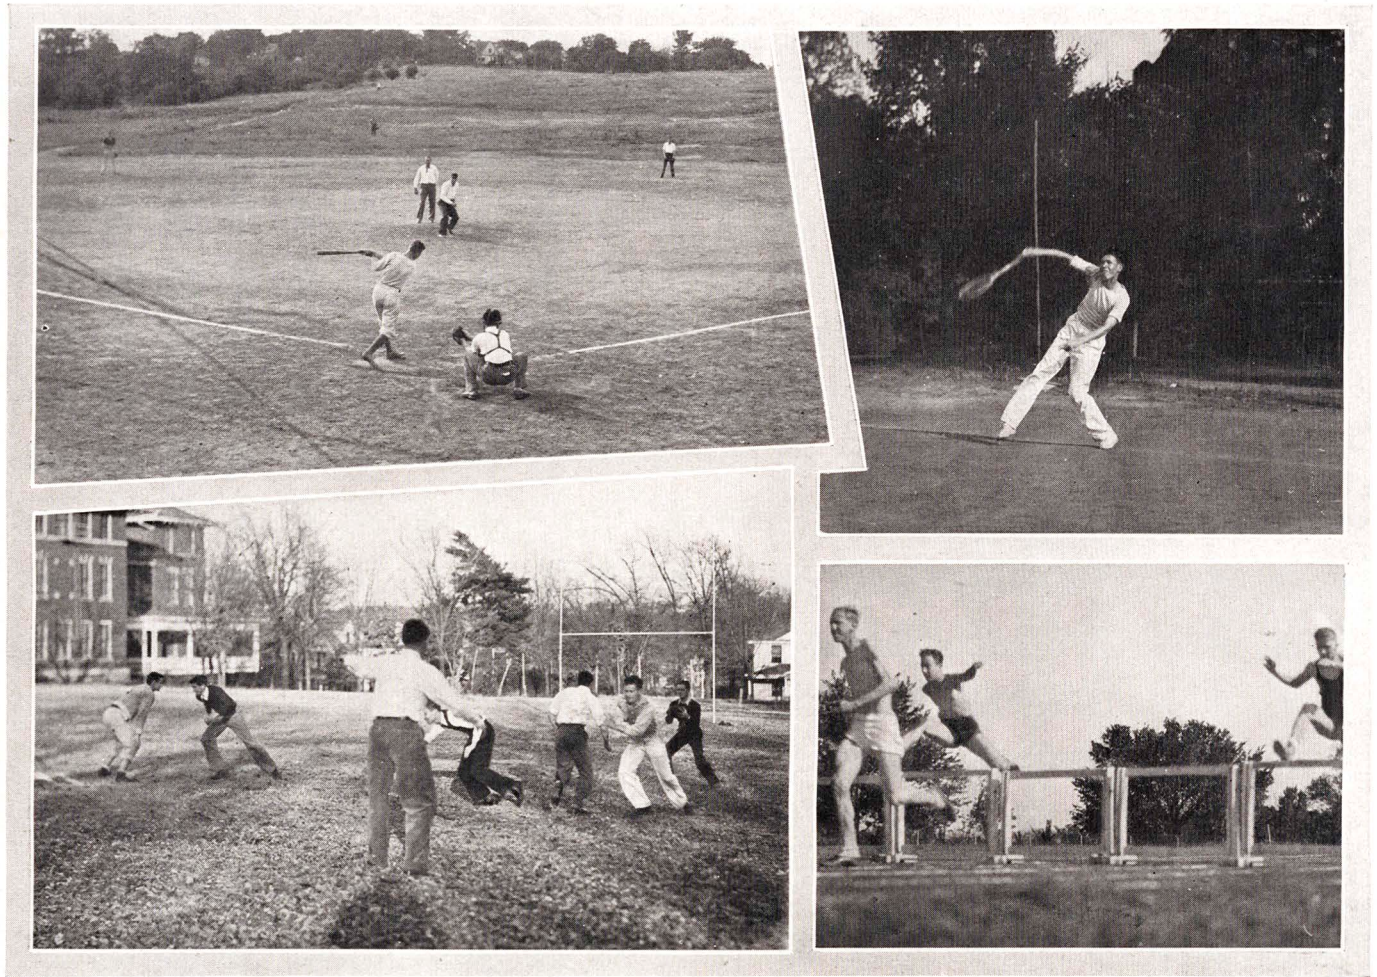

Gerald Cabell, a veteran net star, served as captain of the team this year. Tom Lovett, last year's captain; Clyde Brown, Jephtha Rogers, and Jim Lee Pinnell were other lettermen who carried the brunt of the tennis play this spring. John Kane and Frank Pittman, both of whom had served previously with the Frosh tennis team, together with J. T. West, Jack Robinson and Sam Brooks made up the rest of the squad.

At the time this page was prepared, the tennis team had a tentative schedule including matches with courtsters from the following schools: Tahlequah Teachers, Springfield Teachers, and Tulsa University. Other matches were under consideration but were not definitely arranged.

Coach Rose, Pittman, Rogers, Brown, Cabell, Pinnell, Lovett.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The subject of intramural athletics is one that has often been neglected in the Razorback athletic sections of the past. We feel that this is the type of athletic activity which attracts more active personal interest because every student has opportunity to participate.

This year intramurals were directed by Chester Dean and W. B. Yauch, who acted as intramural managers. The touchball championship was won by Sigma Alpha Epsilon after they defeated the Sigma Nu's in the final encounter of the season. Volley ball, another fall sport, went to the Sigma Nu's, with the Kappa Alpha's as runner-up. A fall tennis tournament resulted in a doubles championship for the Town team, and a singles championship for Sigma Nu, Henry Tuck defeating Sam Brooks of Lambda Chi Alpha in the final match.

Pi Kappa Alpha won the basketball tournament, with the boys from the Football House runners-up. Kappa Alpha took the boxing and wrestling honors. Quiett, Hankins, Spiegelman, Hubener, Bill Smith, and Moore won titles in their respective weight classes in boxing. G. Groves, J. Groves, Sikes, Cohen, McDonald, and Riner took wrestling championships.

FRESHMAN ATHLETICS

Freshman football players under the leadership of their new coach, Brad Scott, went through an undefeated season. The frosh eleven defeated Jonesboro Baptist, 21-0; beat the Bacone Indians, 6-0, in a game at Fort Smith; and tied Texarkana Junior College, 0-0, in a final game at Texarkana, November 17.

Freshmen receiving numerals were: Arthur Kackley, Texarkana; Ned Stafford, Little Rock; Tommy Wynne, Fordyce; George Gilmore, Olney, Texas; Bobby Martin, Texarkana; Elmer Honea, Fayetteville; Elwin Gilliland, Beebe; Vann Brown, Fort Smith; Al Corrotto, Fort Smith; Savoy Seamster, Bentonville; Cliff Van Sickle, Morris, Oklahoma; Chester Ledbetter, Fayetteville; Bill Markley, Marionville, Missouri; Wilton Shackelford, Prescott; Raymond Spillers, Van Buren; Jack Holt, Fayetteville; Phil Ragazzino, New York City; Frank Jeffrey, Norman; Lawson Day, Eufala, Oklahoma; Enio Conti, New York City; Karl White, Van Buren; Ed Valentine, Washington, D. C.; and Cecil Griffin, Slaton, Texas.

Freshman basketball was under the direction of Tom Murphy, newly appointed coach. Not only did the freshman basketmen go through an undefeated season, but they piled up a huge number of points in contrast to the points scored by their opponents. Games were with local independent teams, junior colleges, and small colleges.

Freshman basketball numerals were awarded to: Bobbie Martin, Texarkana; Jack Holt, Fayetteville; Elmer Honea, Fayetteville; Elwin Gilliland, Beebe; Marion Narisi, Fort Smith; Leeman King, Hot Springs; Russell Akins, Fayetteville; Jack Butt, Eureka Springs; J. A. Kritz, Farmington; and Henry Tuck, Fayetteville.

W. A. A., with a total membership of 55, is an organization to foster greater interest in women's athletics. The group sponsored a Fall tennis tournament this year in addition to the usual intramural basketball tournament.

The page features several decorative orange lines. A thick horizontal line runs across the top. Below it, a series of parallel lines of varying thicknesses and lengths create a dynamic, layered effect. On the left side, a vertical line is intersected by several horizontal lines, some of which are curved at their ends, adding to the geometric aesthetic.

This class section, dedicated to those students planning a future in the field of science, is introduced with a message from Dr. Robert A. Millikan, one of the world's greatest living scientific leaders.

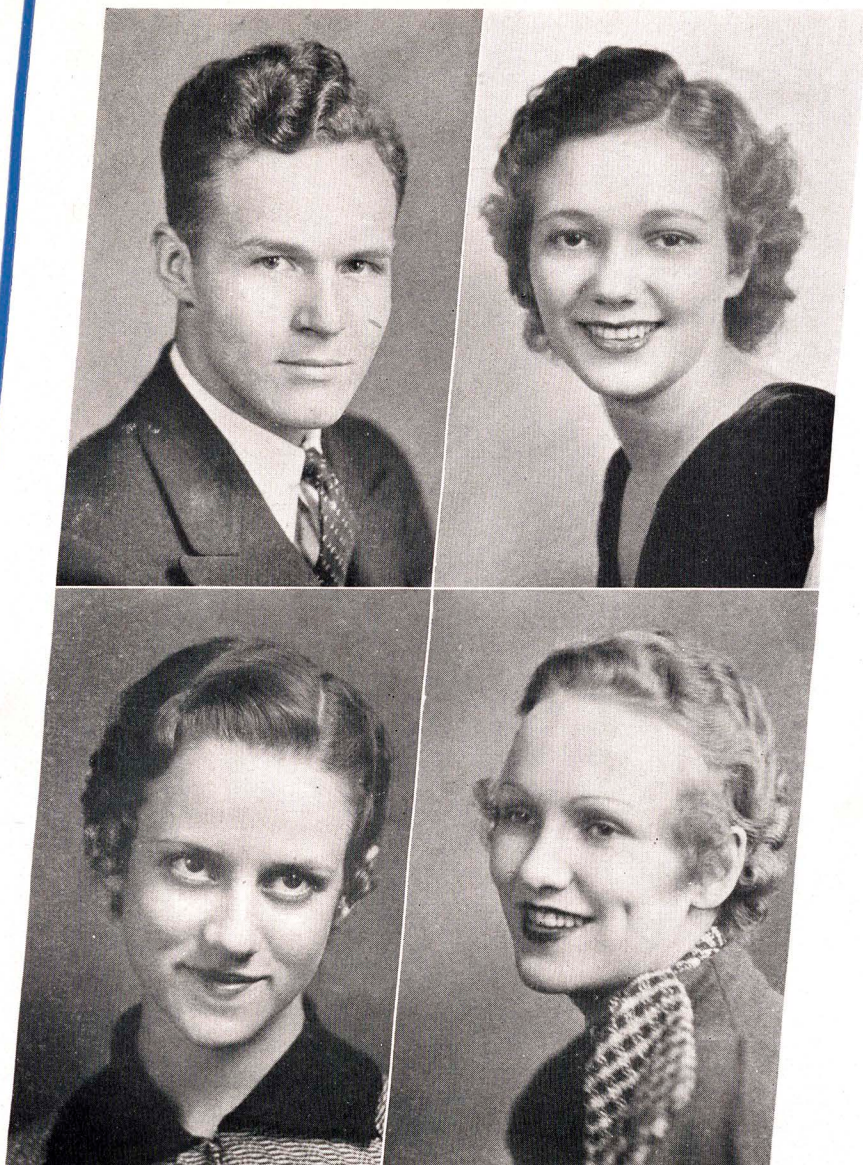

Among other messages received from famous scientists is this one from Dr. Charles Horace Mayo, of the famous Mayo Brothers Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota:

"Science is a corridor, every door from which opens on limitless adventure; best wishes to those who will pass through."

The staff of the 1934 Razorback takes pride in the fact that this year's book introduces a wealth of new and different innovations. Some of these features have never been used in any major annual . . . there are many other ideas which appear for the first time in a Razorback.

The different treatment of the feature section, the miniature feature panels in the fraternity and sorority sections, the bold display type of new design; not to mention the theme of the book as a whole . . . these are a few of the 1934 Razorback's new additions.

Here is your 1934 Razorback. For a full year the staff has planned and worked and worried to produce this book; during that year we have nursed its growth from an idea to a reality. Now our task is finished. We can only hope that our efforts have not been in vain and that you will approve the lofty theme and high purpose of this year-book it has been our pleasure to construct.

In this up-to-the-minute volume we have sought to create a medium through which the University of Arkansas student could peer into his own future. The opening section and division pages portray symbolically the eight basic vocations in which our students will be occupied ten, twenty, thirty years from now. If the 1934 Razorback can be the means of inspiring and encouraging worthy aspirants to success in their chosen fields, then we will have achieved our purpose.

You will notice that we have enlarged the popular feature section. We have enlivened the fraternity and sorority sections with miniature snapshot panels. We have paid tribute to our championship Razorback eleven by moving the athletic section to a place of honor near the front of the book.

We can willingly take oath that every contest and competition sponsored by the 1934 Razorback was conducted honestly and fairly. We are ready to shoulder the blame for such mistakes as occurred because of our negligence, realizing that we have taken every precaution to avoid such mistakes. We can confidently declare that we have done our best to give the university and the state a yearbook of merit. Our success is for you to determine.

The editor and business manager wish to express their appreciation to a willing and loyal staff of helpers whose assistance was so valuable in the building of this book. We also express our thanks to Mr. Elmer Ingle and Mr. Harry Shryoc of the Stafford Engraving Company for their whole-hearted cooperation and aid and to Mr. L. F. THE EDITOR'S MESSAGE

The life of a college editor is filled with advice from the Board of Publications and howls from the student body, especially if he attempts to edit the Arkansas Traveler. Stranded between the desires of the student body to give them news that they like to read, and at the same time attempting to please the faculty members is no small task. An attempt at this twofold task must be made—otherwise the editor is branded as one who lacks intestinal fortitude.

Financed partly by a compulsory tax imposed upon the student body by the students themselves, the paper is edited and managed by persons elected by the student body and bound by their positions to make a futile attempt to please the student reading public. Theoretically, men elected to these posts are those best fitted for the job because of their ability and training in the chosen field. Actually, student politics determine who shall be editor and business manager!

Two examples of "Traveler" front page make-up — also an especially posed picture of a busy moment in the "Traveler" office.

A new system was inaugurated at the beginning of the second semester this year, as concerns writing copy for the Traveler. Members of the senior class in journalism supplied the most of the copy. A rotating staff consisting of news editor, sports editor, and society editor, together with an assistant for each department served for a period of two weeks, and then the staff underwent a general shake-up.

A nine-man Board of Publications—five faculty and four students—holds the club over the editor's head. 'Tis true, these gentlemen may be conscientious indeed, but some of them cannot tell the difference in an agate line and a cut-off rule.

To be bold and print everything every student wants means trouble from the powers that be; to print a conservative paper and please the faculty means howls from the students. The whole system is wrong.

The Arkansas Agriculturist is a magazine published monthly by the students of the College of Agriculture. Its staff is chosen by vote of the student body of that college, and the administration of the magazine is entirely in the hands of agricultural students.

The magazine carries in its columns a balance of news, editorials, and articles on various topics pertaining to agriculture. A page in each issue is devoted to a message from Dan T. Gray, dean of the College of Agriculture. There are also occasional contributions from leading agricultural experts in other parts of the state.

The Agriculturist not only serves the students of the College of Agriculture, but is sent to all colleges and leading high schools of the state in exchange for other papers. It is also sent to farmers and agricultural workers throughout the state; since many of its articles are of a technical nature of great benefit in helping to improve agriculture in Arkansas.

The editorial staff of the agricultural college journal seeks news from every department of the college. The business staff is concerned with matters of advertising, circulation, and general financial welfare of the magazine. A special issue is prepared each year as a feature of Agri Day.

The Arkansas Engineer, official publication of the University of Arkansas College of Engineering, is the oldest of the individual college journals. It was inaugurated in 1920.

The Arkansas Engineer is issued quarterly for distribution to all students of the college and to people all over the state who follow the activities of the University engineering school. It is conducted by a staff of engineering students, with W. B. Stelzner and W. R. Spencer as faculty advisers.

This year the Arkansas Engineer issued an especially elaborate edition on Engineers' Day, using a two-color cover and a four-color frontispiece. Features of the journal include articles by students and professors, alumni news, editorials, and announcements.

The Board of Publications has control over student publications at the University of Arkansas. The Razorback and the Arkansas Traveler are under direct supervision of the Board, while the Arkansas Engineer and the Arkansas Agriculturist are under a budget committee.

The Board of Publications, consisting of four student members, four faculty members, and a faculty chairman who votes in case of tie, keeps in touch with publications activities by requiring frequent reports from editors and business managers. The Board is responsible for letting all publications contracts.

The message which introduces this section, a letter from Roy W. Howard of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, should be an inspiration for every aspirant to the mythical Fourth Estate.

Another message in response to our requests for an encouraging word to student journalists came from Walter Winchell, noted Broadway columnist. In his customary terse manner, Mr. Winchell merely said, "Good wishes", and attached his signature.

PRESENTING ➤

THE RAZORBACK ALBUM

➤ 1934 STYLE

In spite of the fact that the Razorback of 1934 has been created as a typification of all that is new and modern in yearbook construction, the idea for its feature section dates back to the time of bowler hats and bustles, when bicycles built for two were all the rage—and when no home was complete without its family album.

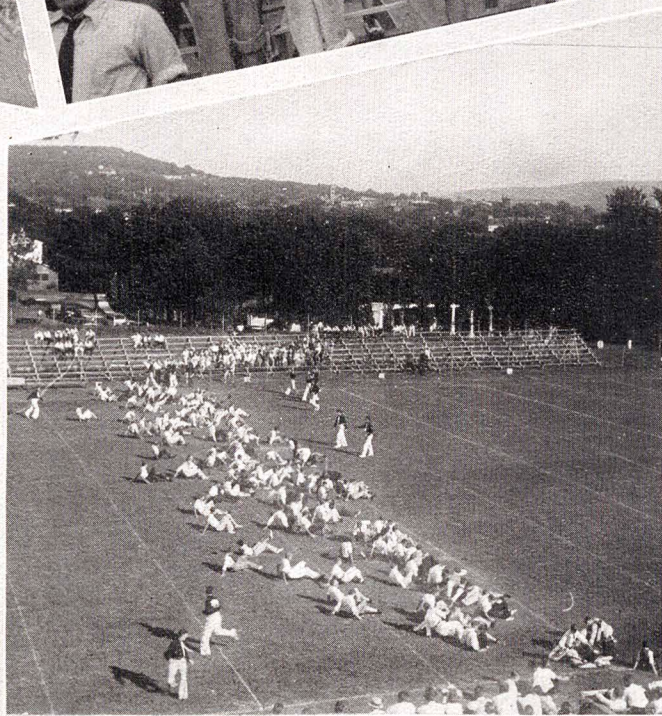

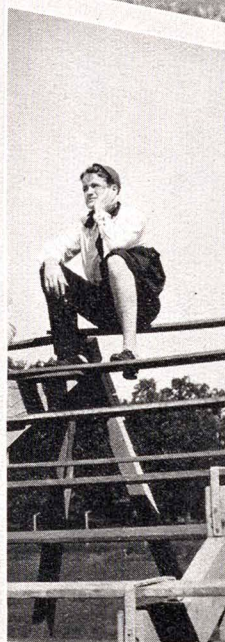

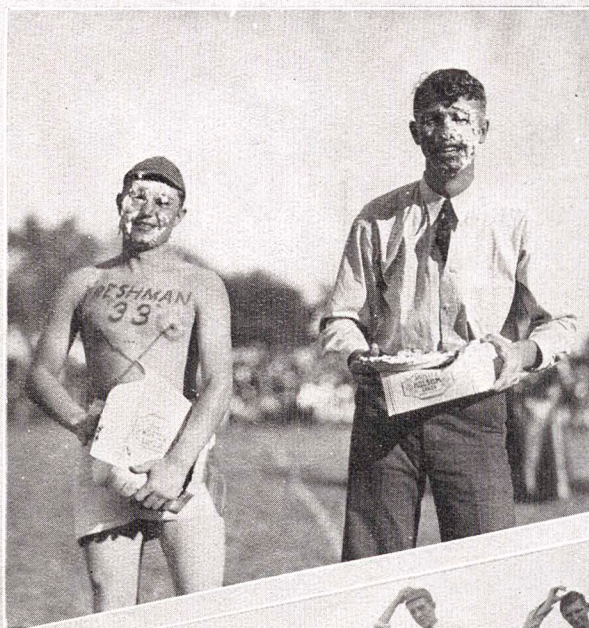

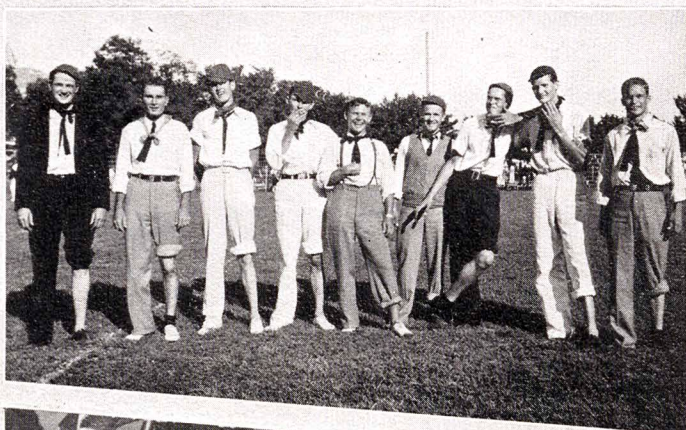

For the purposes of this section we have brought the old-fashioned album up to date, and present for your approval the Razorback album—1934 style. From hundreds of snapshots we have chosen those which are most vividly reminiscent of the scenes they portray. With these snapshots we have built a pictorial history of the school year from rush week to commencement. We submit this history as a storehouse of treasured memories, and only hope that our modernized album will bring to Razorback readers the same enjoyment the albums of 1890 brought to those before us.

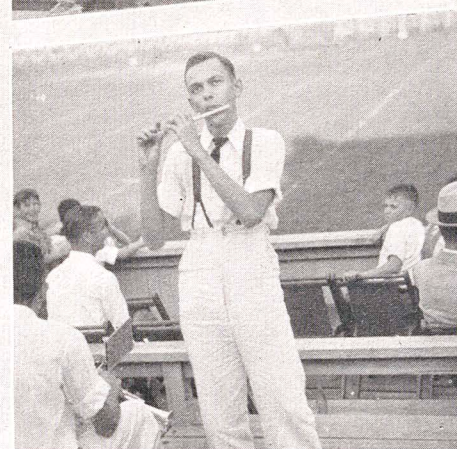

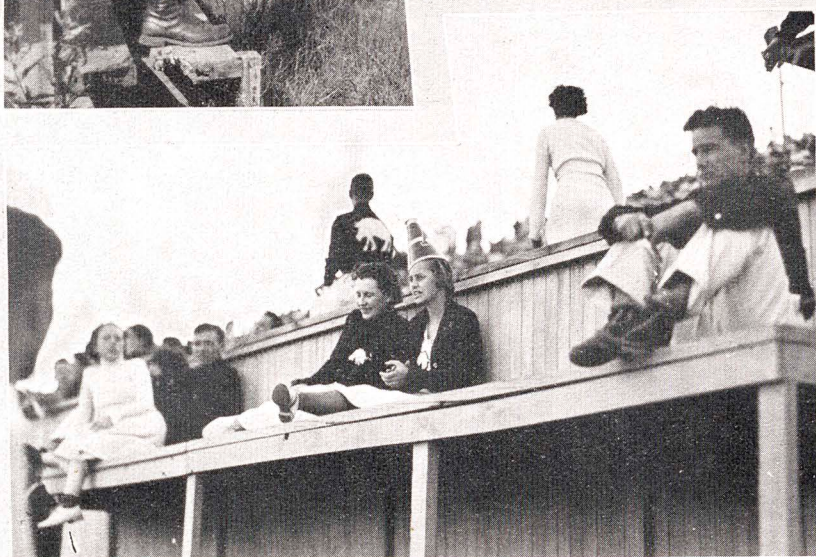

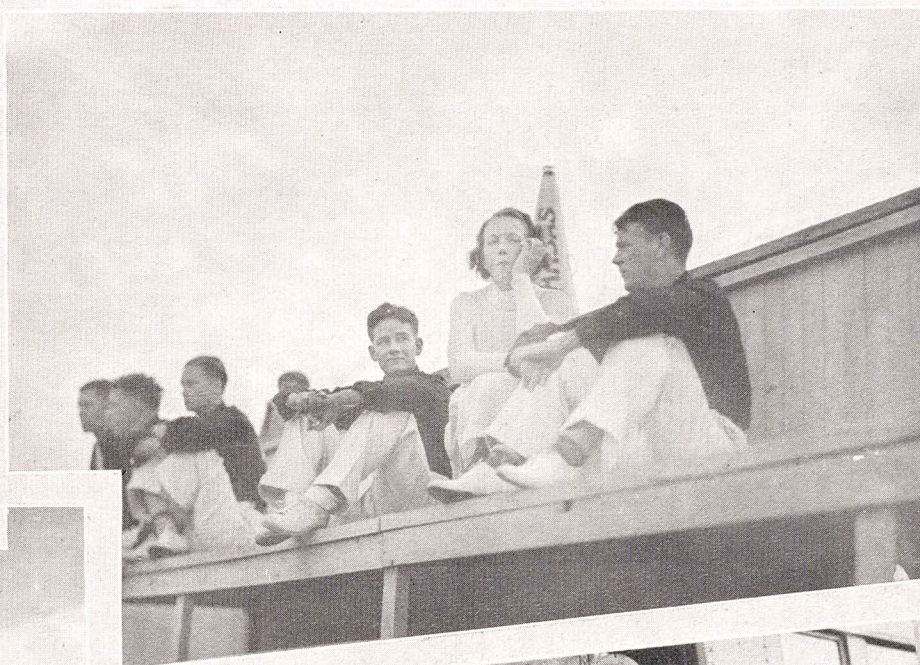

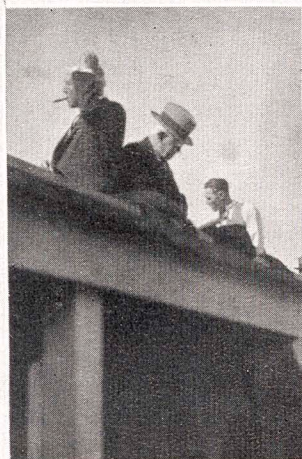

RUSH WEEK—Scene one is at the home of the Pi Beta Phi's . . . The Delta Gamma's entertain rushees with a manless dance . . . Members of Chi Omega seek applicants for the Chio course in campusology . . . The Tri Delt's sit on the floor so the rushees can have the chairs . . . Kappa Sig's sing a song of seventy men . . . Just a friendly gathering about the Lambda Chi Alpha hearth.

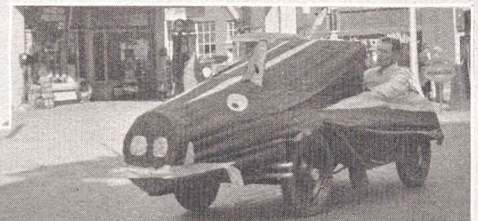

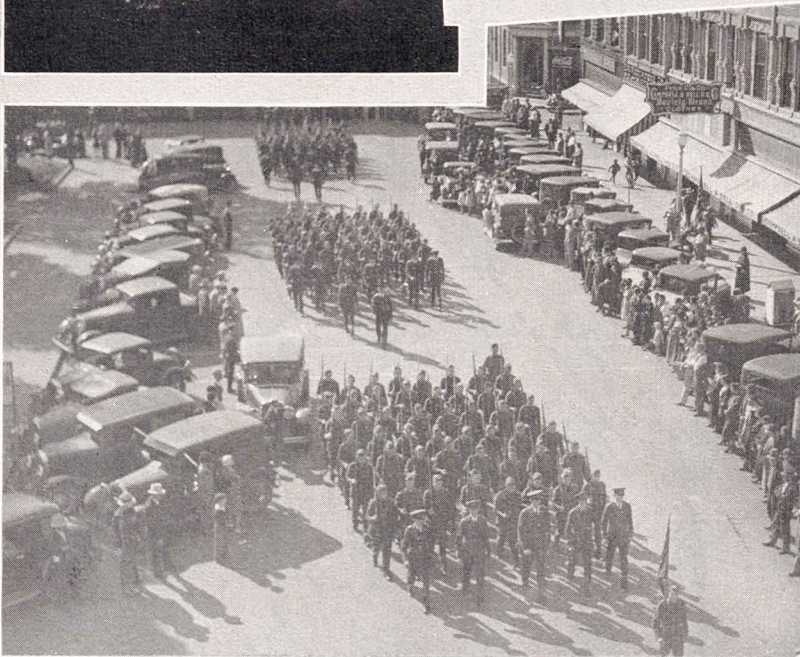

LO! THE POOR FROSH—They shall have their sox tied about their necks! . . . Nothing like a chocolate pie to remove wrinkles from the face . . . A sad, sad story without words . . . Button, freshmen! . . . Nolen Clarence Riley undergoes an operation on his tie . . . Freshman typicale . . . A favorite outdoor sport; that is, for the upper-classmen.

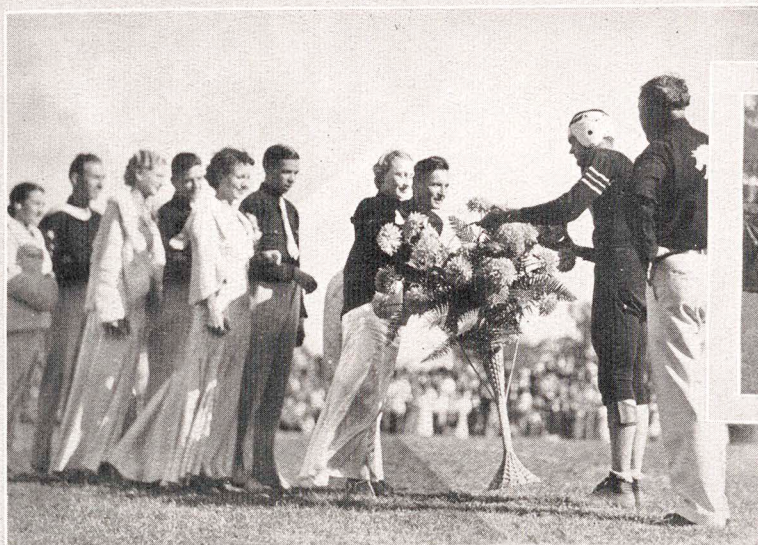

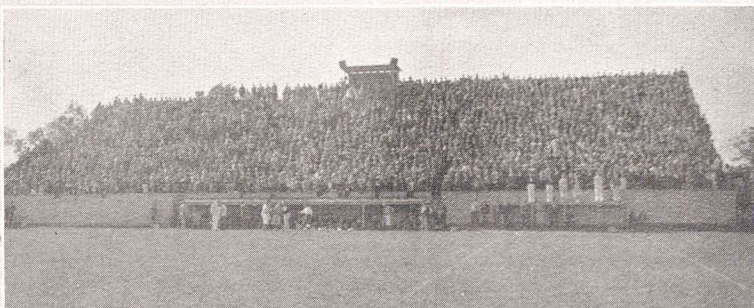

INFORMALITIES—Prexy Futrall in an informal pose . . . Gum-chewing Gertie Pearson caught by the camera just as she completed the down-swing . . . "Slim" Berson, the local police force, in person . . . The arrow points to Theodore Hezl Finkle on the way to his alleged home town of Little Rock . . . Franny Pittman does an excellent imitation of a dunce . . . Piccolo Witt in action.

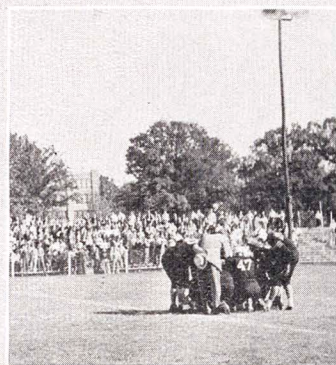

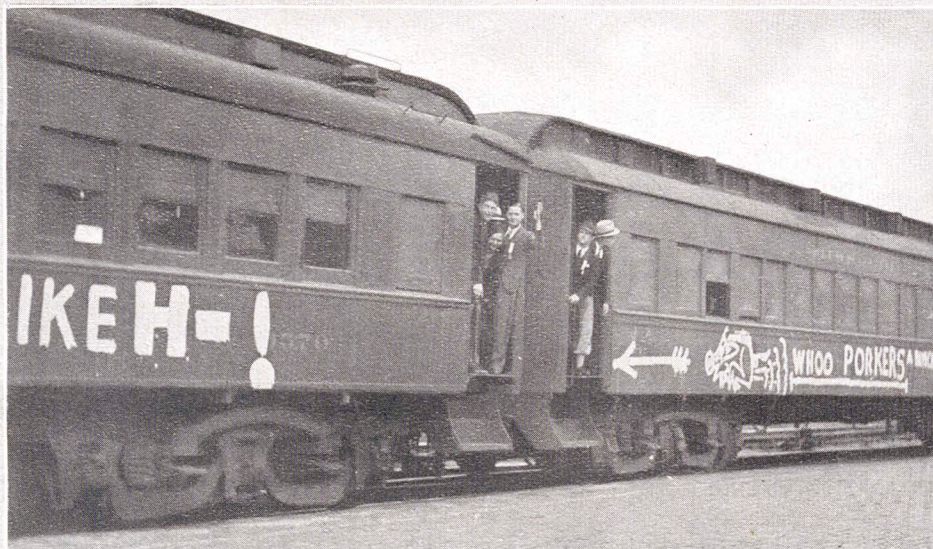

HOMECOMING — A hot time in the old town at the Homecoming bonfire . . . The red-shirts and the white-skirts parade around the square . . . Major White's uniformed troops go marching by . . . K. A. Kirby guards the prize-winning Chio clock, but his brothers got it just the same . . . Queen Walls and her attendants parade in state . . . Here is an Austin that turned into a Razorback . . . Carnall Hall wins the award for the best float.

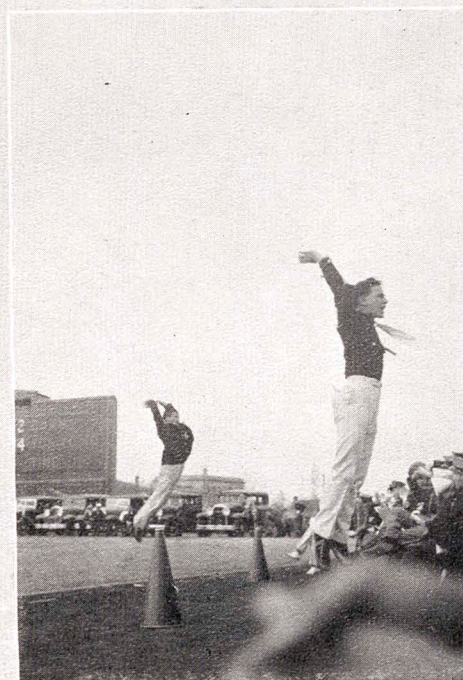

HOMECOMING GAME — President Futrall and Governor Futrell are honor guests . . . standing room only—a full house . . . well, the poor boys are sleepy, or maybe it was something they et . . . Freshman gals came all dressed up for the occasion . . . Brown executes a courtly bow as Captain Johnson presents Queenie with a little floral decoration . . . One of many victims of the entertainment between halves.

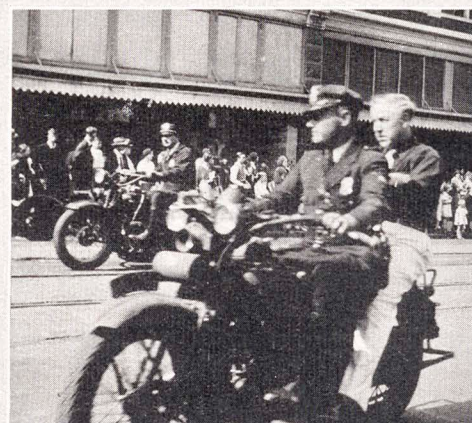

WE GO TO LITTLE ROCK — on board a gaily decorated special . . . Tommy and his men had to take the trip seriously; so they talk things over . . . Even the fire department turned out for the parade . . . A bit of a snake-dance to celebrate Arkansas' victory . . . A bird's-eye view of the parade down Main Street . . . A group of assorted maids and sponsors at the game . . . and in the parade.

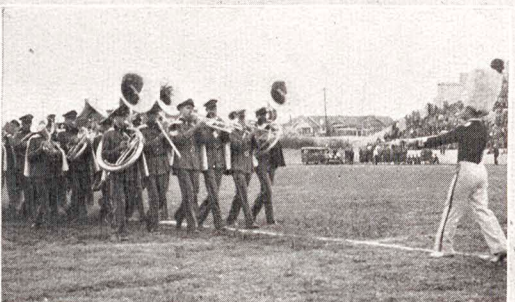

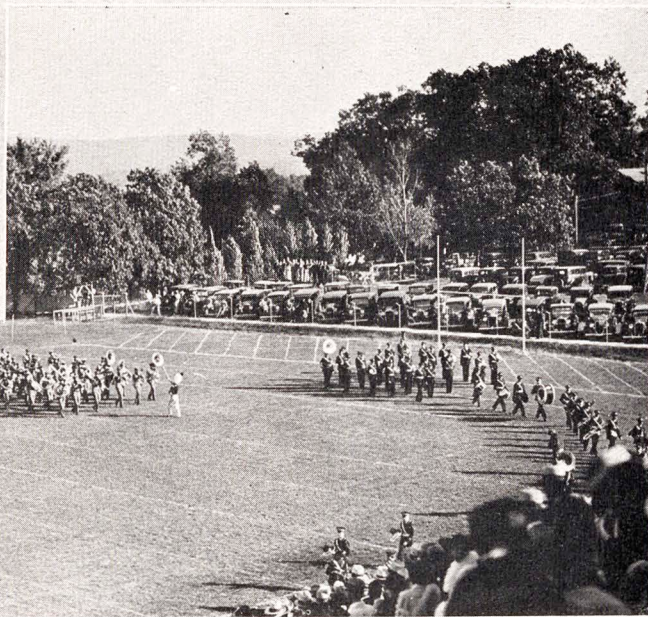

STILL MORE TRAVELS — The album pictures the crowd at the L. S. U. game in Shreveport . . . and the scene as students alighted from the Shreveport special . . . Our band poses with the Tulsa Depot in the background . . . then leads the march through the city . . . Red-shirts invade the fairgrounds at Shreveport . . . while at Tulsa the local Sons of the Desert or something entertain . . . as Leslie and Jones get all up in the air at Tulsa U's victory.

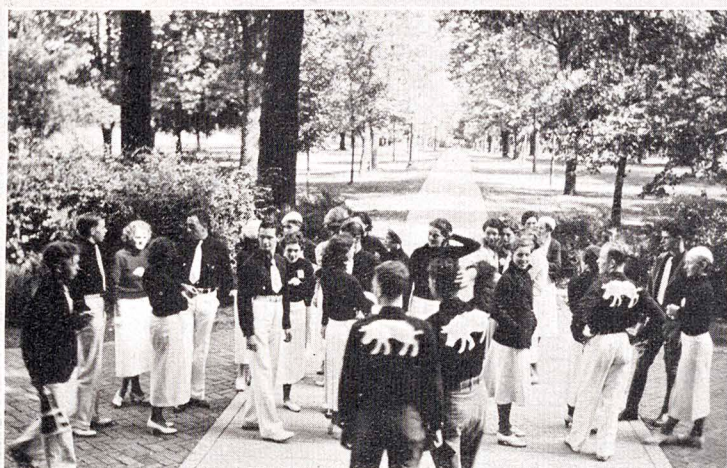

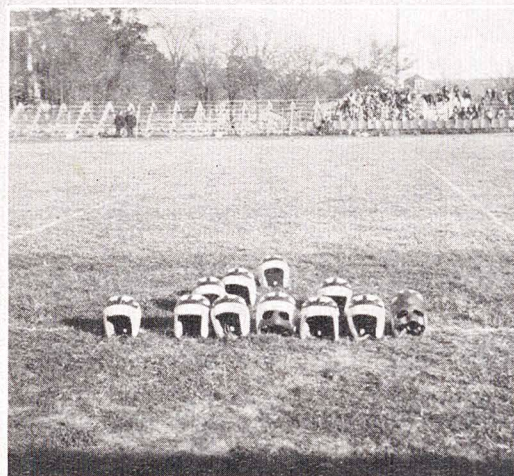

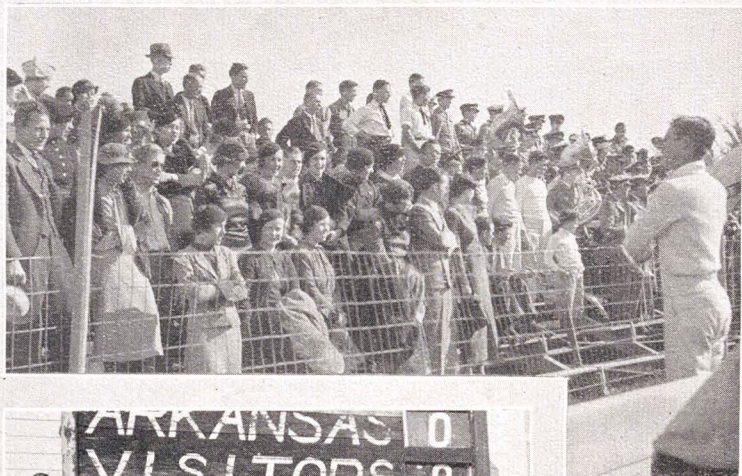

MORE INFORMALITIES—Coach Tommy seems sorta discouraged, but certainly not about football prospects . . . Prexy—What, again? . . . A choice shot of Greg on a motorcycle built for two . . . Heap big chief Dees smokes the pipe of peace . . . Rosie Rowles bawls out greetings to people of neighboring states . . . "Mister Roy" Kelly, athletics student manager . . . Leslie seems perfectly at home up there . . . Muddy Lake, in costume—unruly children scared cheap.

FOLLOWING THE BAND AROUND—A study in shadows from atop a telephone pole . . . The band leads out in perfect formation in the Little Rock parade . . . Master Warnock entertains Louisiana State Fair visitors . . . Maestro Foutz takes charge . . . We follow the band through the streets of Tulsa . . . Arkansas musicians made a big hit at the Tulsa game . . . but shared honors with Fort Smith band members Homecoming.

FAREWELL TO FALL— The album reviews the season. Here is the group of S. M. U. Chi Omega's who came calling on the local sisters . . . As the line-up will look if many more footballers flunk out . . . Score-keepers Ward and Rogers on the job . . . but no more on the job than the Razorback cheer leaders . . . Arkansas pepsters assemble . . . Two types of parades: one of dignity before the T. C. U. fracas . . . and a jubilant shirt-tail affair afterward.

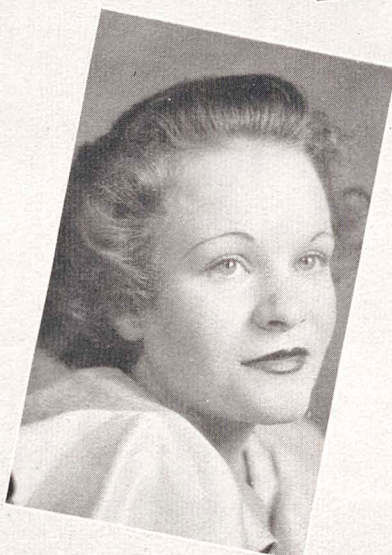

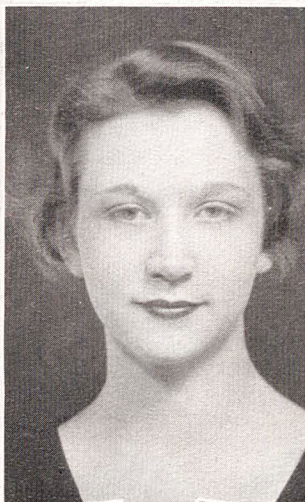

THE ALBUM INTRODUCES — Freshman Queen Mary Louise Sanders, Town . . . and candidates Virginia Lou Moore, Carnall Hall . . . Josephine Fisher, Chi Omega . . . Willel Myers, Zeta Tau Alpha . . . Geraldine Jeffers, Pi Beta Phi . . . Winnifred Bittinger, Kappa Kappa Gamma . . . Helen Purifoy, Delta Delta Delta . . . and Renna Catherine Franklin, Delta Gamma.

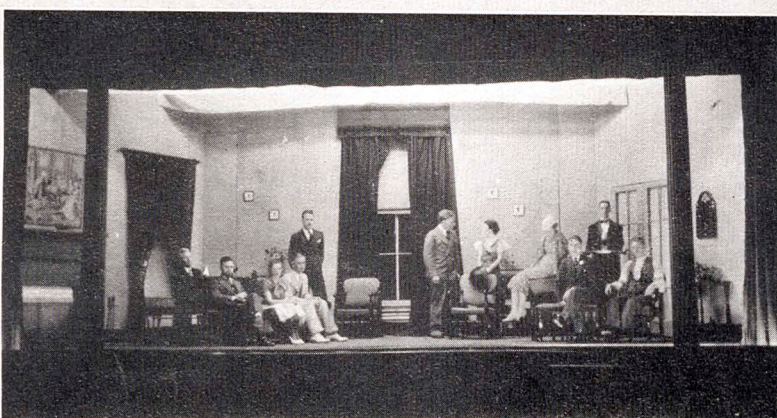

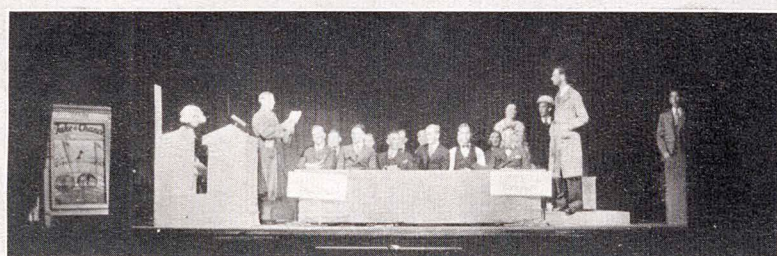

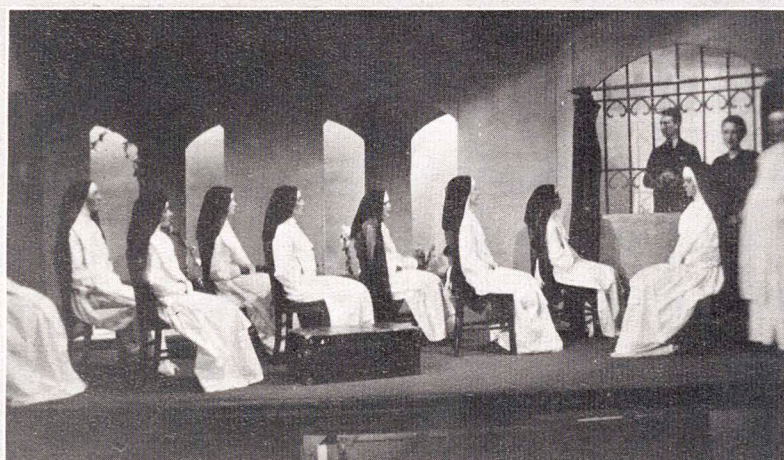

THE ALBUM INTRODUCES — Campus Queen Margaret Frierson, Chi Omega . . . and candidates Lorene Vinson, Kappa Kappa Gamma . . . Polly Pendleton, Delta Delta Delta . . . Isabel Storms, Carnall Hall . . . Mary Helen Beasley, Zeta Tau Alpha . . . Virginia Cate, Delta Gamma . . . Pauline Friddle, Town . . . and Vivian Tatum, Pi Beta Phi.

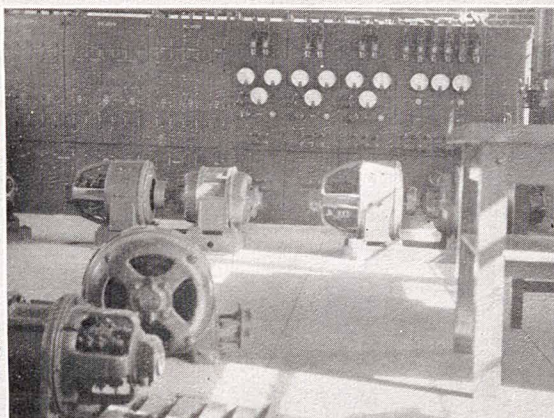

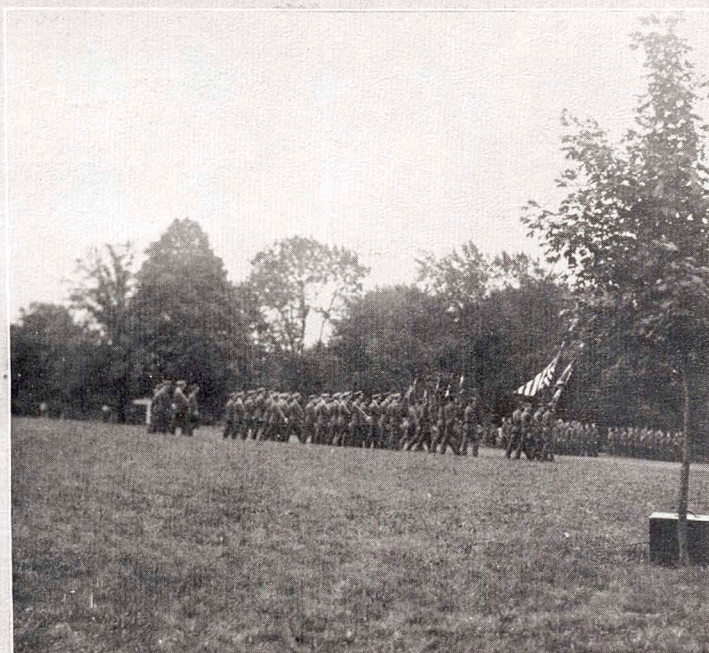

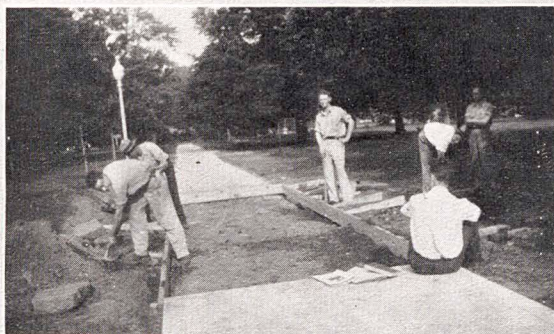

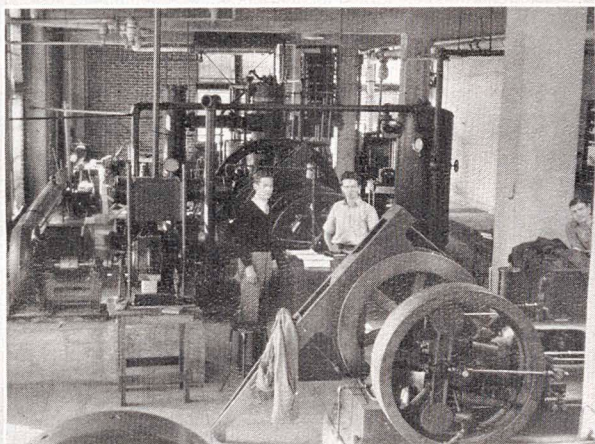

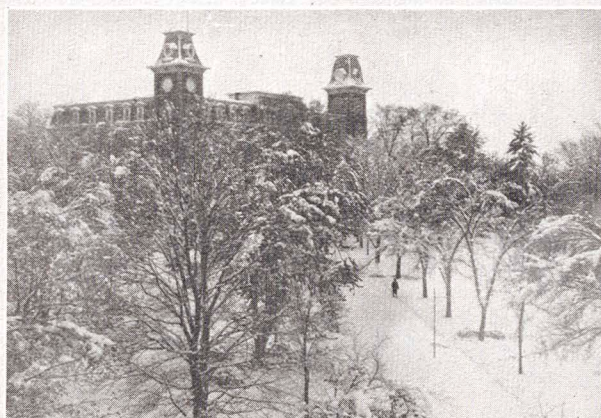

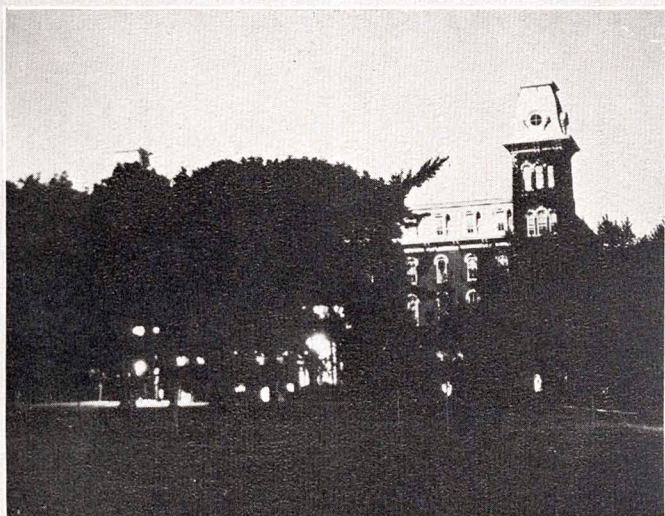

THE ALBUM INTRODUCES — Beauty contest entrants: Mildred Sexson, Town . . . Laura Shrode, Delta Gamma . . . Mary Magee, Zeta Tau Alpha . . . Mary Moses, Chi Omega . . . Mary Lee Forsyth, Kappa Kappa Gamma . . . Madelyn Smith, Chi Omega . . . Marjorie Hunt, Delta Delta Delta . . . Amy Gene Barron, Delta Gamma . . . Lucille Perkins, Delta Delta Delta . . . and Helen Hofmann, Pi Beta Phi.

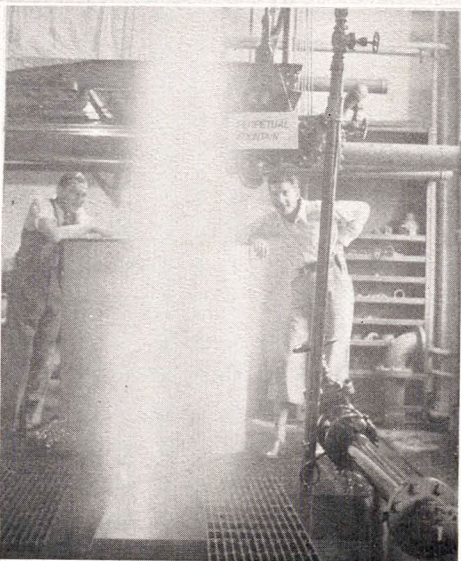

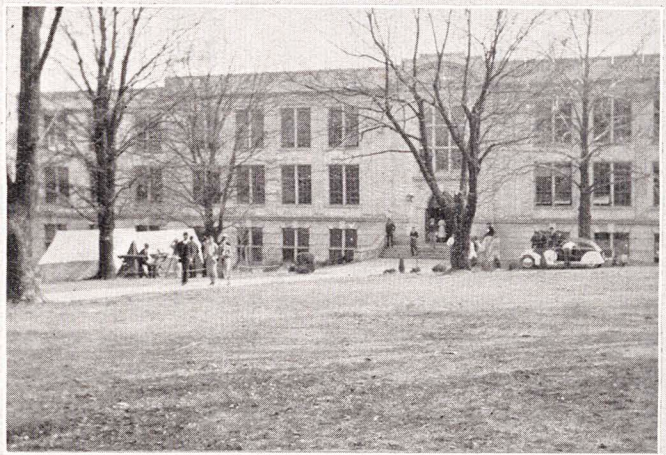

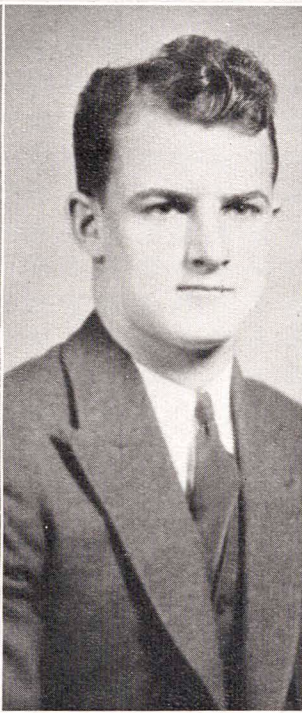

DRAMATIC EVENTS—A scene from "The Cradle Song" . . . This shot from "A Beggar on Horseback" wasn't as serious as it looks here . . . The hold-up from "The Perfect Alibi" is in decided contrast to . . . the peaceful atmosphere which pervaded "The Cradle Song" . . . More horseplay from the clever satire "A Beggar on Horseback" . . . Houston and Hunt as they looked in the May Festival presentation "The Snow Queen" . . . The stage set for Blackfriars' "The Perfect Alibi".

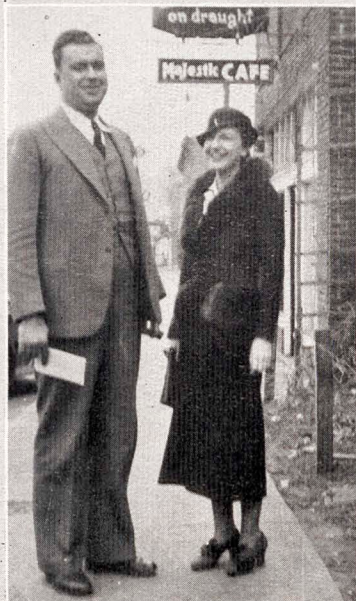

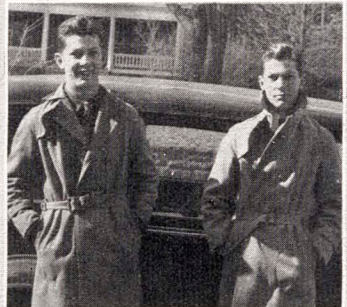

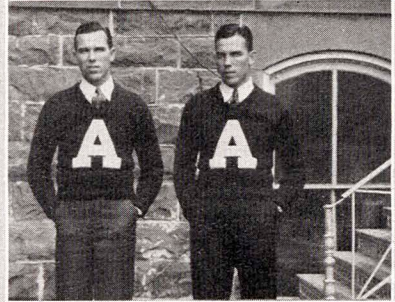

ABOUT THE CAMPUS—Old Main stands out against the blackness of night . . . Staunch towers loom above the wintry landscape . . . Here engineers seek knowledge in the mysteries of machinery . . . The C. W. A. makes possible a general clean-up of the campus . . . Parade day on the drill field . . . The senior walk receives a new addition as graduation time approaches . . . The E. E. lab—meters, motors, switches, and shocks.

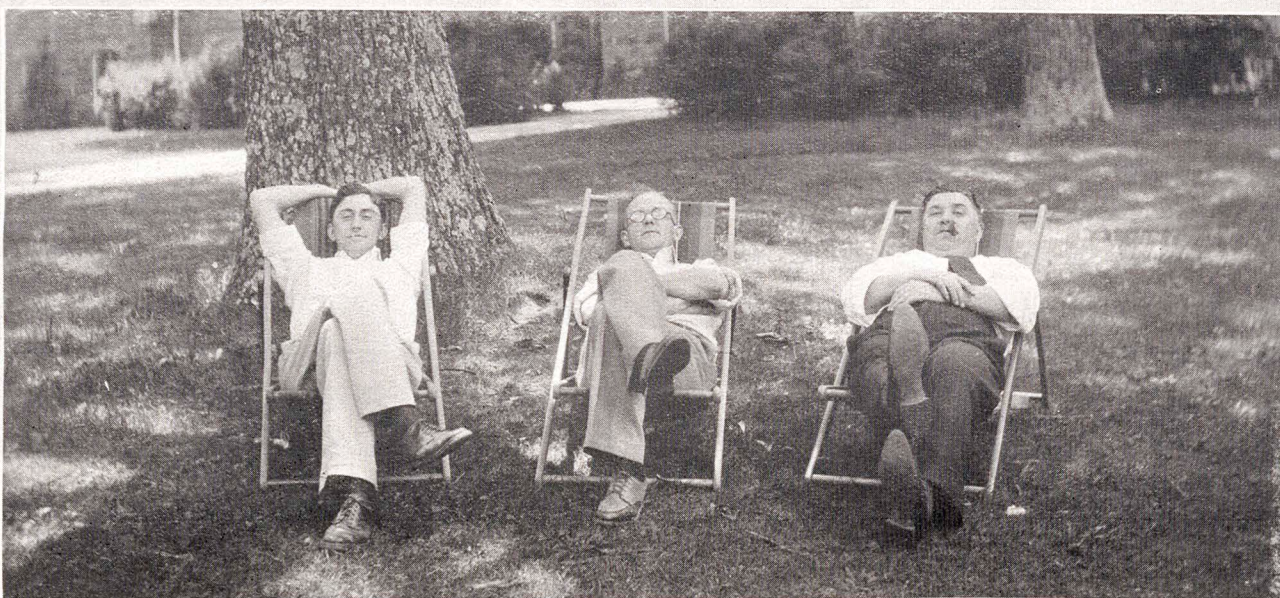

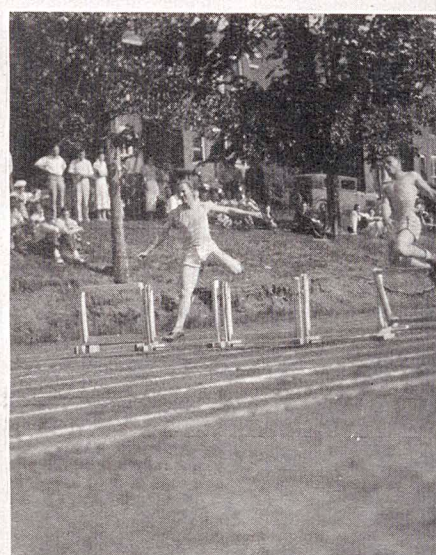

DAYS OF CELEBRATION — Mary Herget, Engineers' Queen, and Charles Black, St. Patrick, who ruled over Engineers' Day festivities . . . their headquarters prepared for the visitors . . . and below you see them in full regalia . . . One of the floats in the Agri Day parade . . . The "perpetual fountain" was one of the interesting Engineers' Day exhibits . . . Agri Queen Floy Mainard and A. D. A. Manager Howard Eoff.

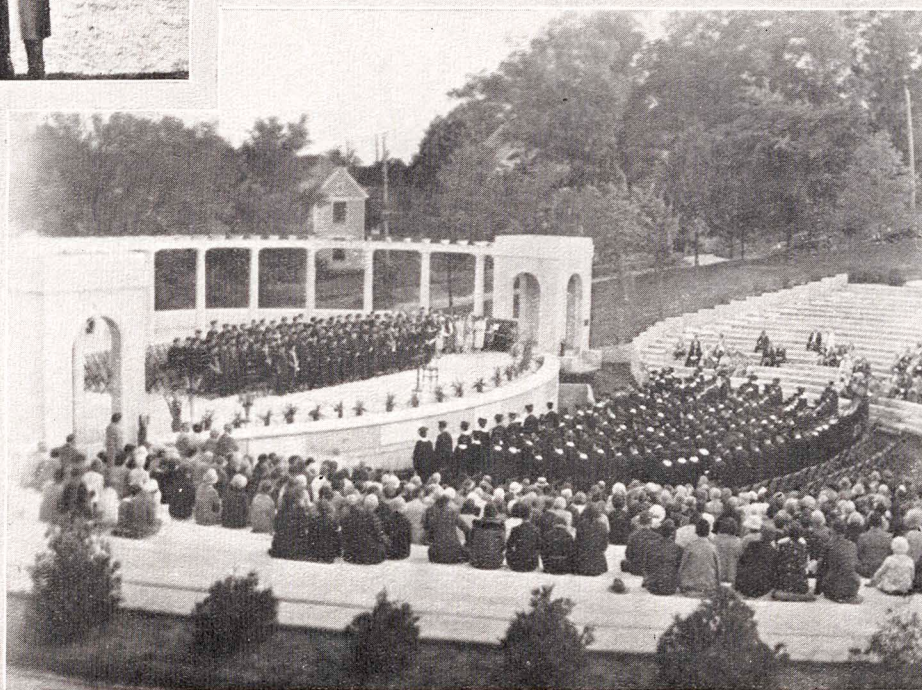

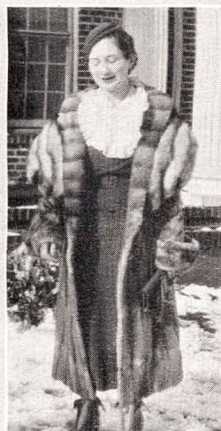

TWOSOMES — Wray and Seamster . . . Sigma Nu Kerr and Timmie . . . The Bassett-Batenian combine . . . The deep-thinking Jordans make the feature section again . . . Doc and Rosalie . . . Scene in the Chio house . . . Chili and Mary . . . Congrats to Gus Koerner and Frances May . . . More twins—Lambda Chi's Fred and Frank Kelly, or maybe it's Frank and Fred . . . Smith and Wynne register happiness . . . Jack and Josephine . . . Moses won't like this picture.

IN THE SPRING—a young man's fancy lightly turns from thoughts of studying . . . to thoughts of love . . . Or maybe he would enjoy stumping his toes on the hurdles . . . or a little exercise on the baseball diamond . . . Then the fancy might turn to a refreshing dip in the pool—maybe . . . But chances are the average young man will take his ease like the distinguished gentlemen here—because spring fever is quite contagious.

IN CONCLUSION — Senior officers receive their commissions . . . Wee Virginia Edwards enjoys a good cry . . . while Mick and Ray laugh at labor . . . A bunch of the boys were whooping it up at a Schuler-town rendezvous . . . Light spring reading cures dull care . . . Razorback out!!! . . . Nothing like a little friendly politicking around final exam time . . . Commencement—the final act in the drama of the school year . . . and so our album must end.

A most novel message was sent to us for the personalities section of the Razorback by George Gershwin, composer of "Rhapsody in Blue", "An American in Paris", and other suites which have won him acclamation as one of America's leading modern composers of semi-popular music. Mr. Gershwin sent his best wishes to University of Arkansas students of fine arts; then autographed his picture with a measure from the melody of one of his new and yet unpublished compositions.

The background features several decorative orange lines. A thick vertical line is on the left, with several thinner vertical lines to its left. Horizontal lines of varying thicknesses cross the page, some with rounded ends, creating a modern, geometric design.

The 1934 Razorback.
Fayetteville, Ark.

Dear Mr. Reid:

Enclosed herewith you will find the six winners in the Razorback beauty contest.

Inasmuch as all the young ladies were beautiful it was a very difficult contest
so I took all the photographs to the studio and had Miss Joan Blondell, Miss Ruby Keeler, Joe E. Brown and Lyle Talbot assist me in the final selection.

The winners are in this order:-

First-----Jessamine Huff
Second-----Medora Marshall
Third-----Nancy Yarbrough
Fourth-----Mary Frances Douglas
Fifth-----Edra Compton
Sixth-----Maurine Edmiston

I regret to state that my new photographs have not arrived as yet but as soon as they do, I will mail you one.

It was an honor and a great pleasure rendering you this verdict and I do hope that the final selection will meet with every-ones approval.

Yours sincerely,

Dick Powell

The cover features several decorative orange lines. A thick horizontal line is positioned above the title box. To the left of the title box, a vertical line descends from the top, intersecting with a horizontal line that extends to the right. Below this, another horizontal line runs across the page, with a curved orange shape on the right side. On the far left, a series of thin vertical lines are stacked vertically.

As one of the Land Grant Colleges of America, the University of Arkansas offers to its students a course in military training under experienced army men who have made a careful study of the preparation of men for war time need. These men look upon their work as a science. They teach the principles of military tactics in such a way as to form a background which is an asset to any student's education. It is only fair that we should pay tribute to them in our military section.

Major J. M. White is now in his second year as chief of the University of Arkansas' Reserve Officers' Training Corps. He has maintained the good features of other administrations, such as the awarding of honors for company and individual proficiency in drill, and has added such new methods as were needed to make the unit more efficient in its work.

Captain Thompson, in his work with the junior officers, annually trains men who capture honors from other larger schools in the summer encampments. Captain Akins' rifle team is nationally known as one of the best in the country, and his new rifle range will be a distinct addition to the University. Captain Myers has succeeded this year in securing for Arkansas a charter in Pershing Rifles, national honorary society for basic military students.

We believe the achievements of these men in building an efficient military department should not go unheralded; hence we dedicate this page in the 1934 Razorback to them.

The Arkansas varsity rifle team has won three consecutive championships, hanging up one world record in past years.

At the time this book goes to press Hearst Match competition was unfinished; however, four varsity men who helped Arkansas win more medals than any other team at the Iowa State shoot last year are back again, and Arkansas' record should be good.

Captain R. C. Akins, rifle team coach, has begun construction of a modern firing range underneath the Greek amphitheater on the campus. When this is finished Arkansas can play host to other teams in competitive matches here.

Scabbard and Blade is a national honorary military fraternity which has as its chief purposes the creation of a closer relationship between the military departments in our American universities and the spreading of intelligent information concerning our nation's military requirements. Members of Scabbard and Blade are selected from among the students enrolled in the advanced courses in Military Training near the end of the junior year. Men are chosen in accordance with their proficiency and interest in military affairs, personal character, and leadership abilities.

Pershing Rifles, a national honorary military fraternity for basic students of R. O. T. C. units, was founded in 1893 by John J. Pershing. It was formed on the principles of promoting interest in military work, developing men of greater value to the R. O. T. C. and O. R. C., and inciting proficiency in drill.

The local unit, Company F of the Second Regiment, was organized by Captain C. S. Myers, who conducted a series of tryouts to select the outstanding sophomores in the R. O. T. C. unit. The petition to Pershing Rifles resulted in the establishment of a chapter of the organization here on February 24, 1934.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council is made up of twenty-six members, two from each fraternity on the campus. This year the council sponsored a successful move for a co-operative cleaning plant to make possible lower cleaning and pressing prices, and also worked out a uniform rush card to be used by all fraternities. The council's purpose is to create a closer harmony among the various fraternity groups and to solve any interfraternity problems that may arise.

KAPPA SIGMA

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia, December 10, 1869, by William G. McCormick, George M. Arnold, Edmund Law Rogers, Jr., Frank C. Nicodemus and John C. Boyd.

From its inception it was intended that Kappa Sigma should expand into other institutions and become a widespread organization, but it was not until 1873 that the founders saw their plans take definite shape, although a chapter had been established at the University of Alabama shortly after the parent chapter was organized.

Arkansas Xi Chapter was established in 1890. The chapter existed as the Richardson Club, named after Dr. Charles Richardson, of Fayetteville, during the time the fraternities were barred from the Arkansas campus, between the years 1901 and 1903.

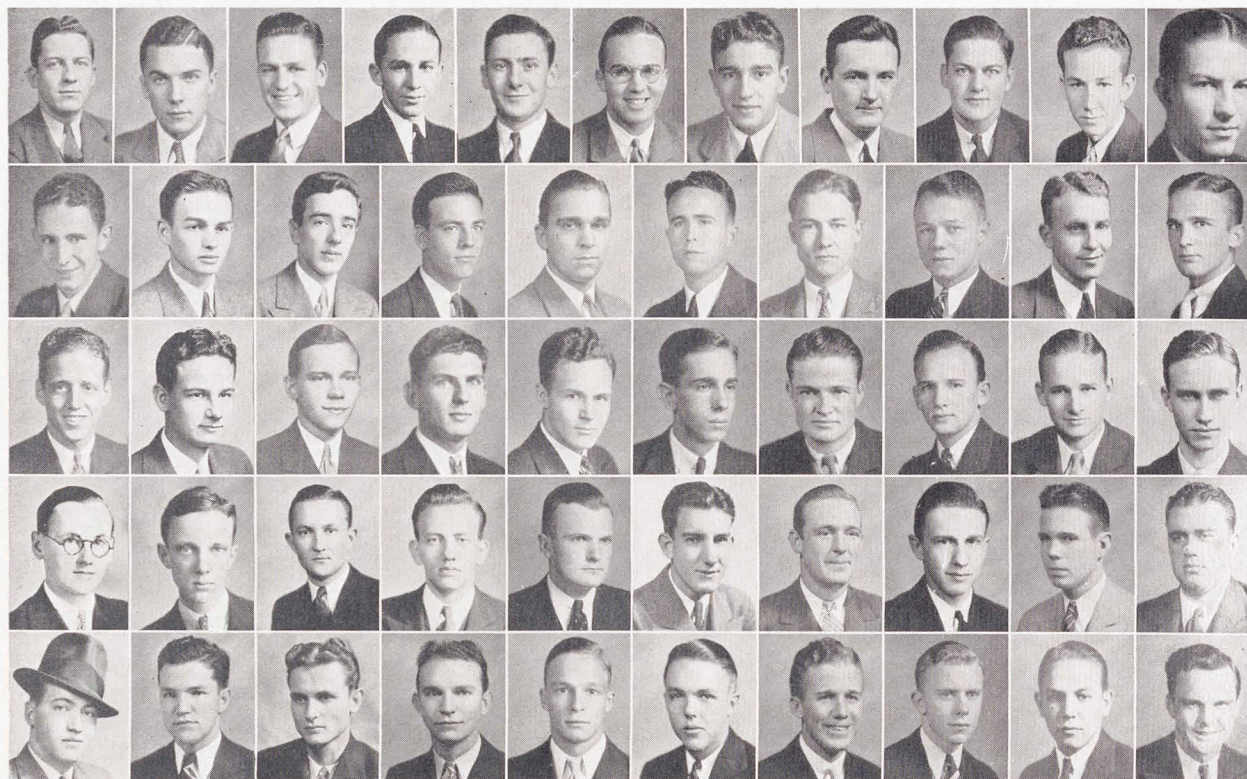

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded in 1856 by eight students of the University of Alabama, who had become hard and fast friends. In its early days it remained in the South, the first chapter north of the Mason and Dixon line being established just before the Civil War. At present the orders number one hundred and eight active chapters with an initiated membership of over 37,000. Working in collaboration with the active chapters are one hundred and five alumni associations in American cities and Paris, France. Of these, there are three in this state. Publications are fraternity histories, directories, secret publications, and the periodical magazine, "The Record," which is a quarterly with a circulation of 30,000.

National headquarters are maintained at Evanston, Illinois. In the National house, owned by S. A. E., there is a large library of books concerning fraternity subjects in general and a museum devoted to the American college fraternity. Conventions are held biennially, and in alternate years province conventions meet. The local chapter, Arkansas Upsilon, was established on the University campus in 1894 with a chapter enrollment of seventeen.

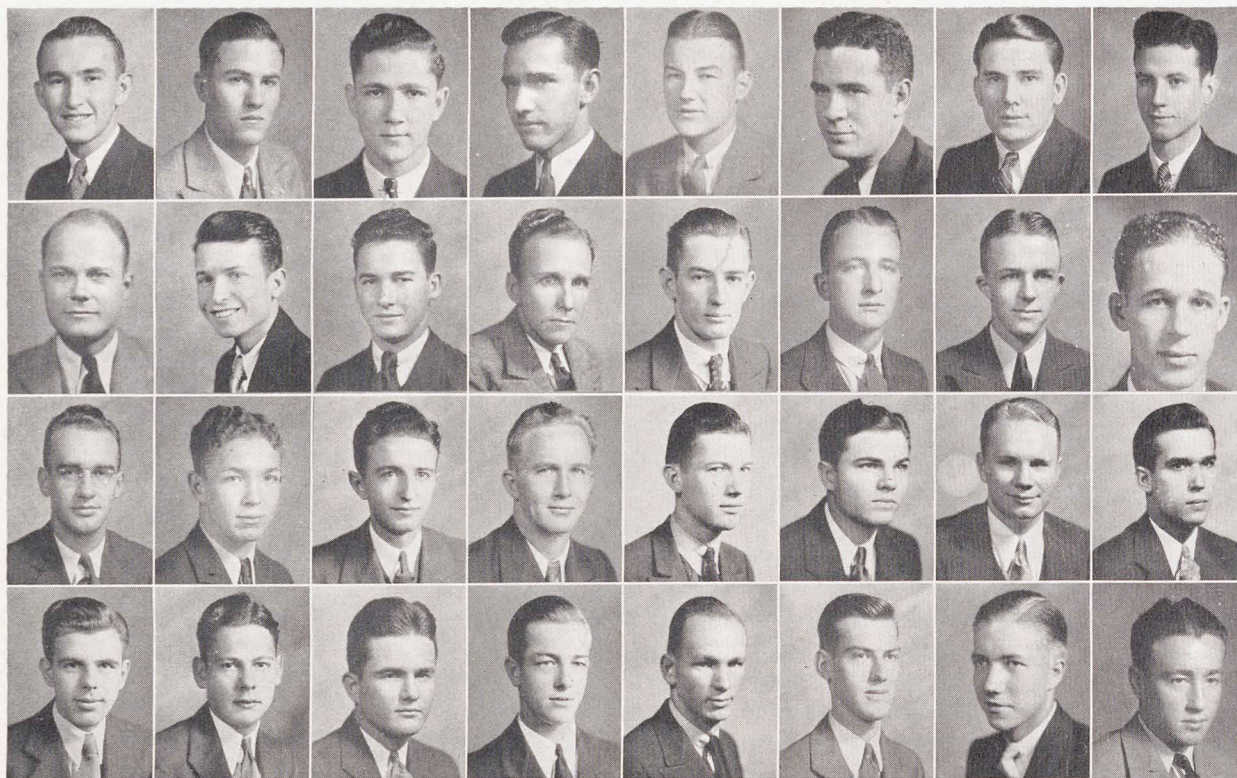

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha Order was founded December 21, 1865, at Washington and Lee University. The bleeding South was just emerging from the Civil War, and four students of what was then Washington College banded together to start a movement to foster and maintain the manners, customs, and ideals of the Southern people. They looked to Robert E. Lee, who was at that time president of Washington College, as their ideal.

Kappa Alpha has confined itself to the South. The order now has sixty-seven chapters located in the principal colleges and universities of the South. Alpha Omicron was installed April 27, 1895. Before binding itself to the national fraternity, it was a local fraternity of ten men.

The Kappa Alpha Order is organized in seven provinces and these officiated by Province Commanders, Secretaries, and Alumni Historians. Over these provinces are a Knight Commander, a Grand Purser, a Grand Historian, and a Chief Alumnus. Professor Allan S. Humphreys, a member of the local chapter, is now serving as Grand Purser. Official publications are the Kappa Alpha Journal, the Special Messenger, Directory, and Kappa Alpha Song Book.

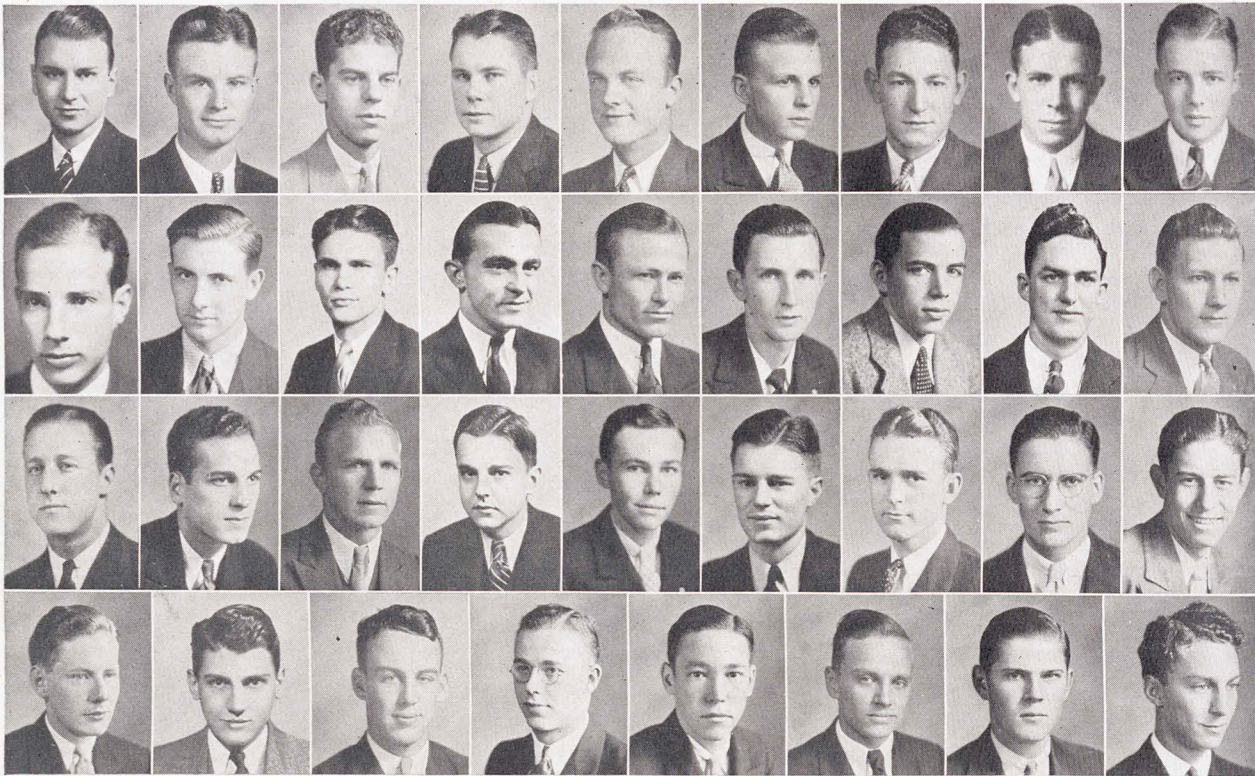

SIGMA NU

Sigma Nu originated from the Legion of Honor, a secret organization. The Greek letter name was adopted on January 1, 1869, at the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va. James F. Hopkins, of Arkansas, was the recognized leader of the Legion of Honor, which opposed the overbearing control of another society. Hopkins, designer of the badge of Sigma Nu, was associated with Greenville Quarles and James M. Riley in the formation of the fraternity.

The chapters were not given Greek letter names at first, but were designated by Roman numerals in order of their establishment. There are now ninety-eight active chapters with a total membership of about 29,781.

Official publications include The Delta, quarterly periodical, the Sigma Nu Song Book, The Story of Sigma Nu, and Sigma Nu catalogues.

The Gamma Upsilon chapter was established at the University of Arkansas in 1904.

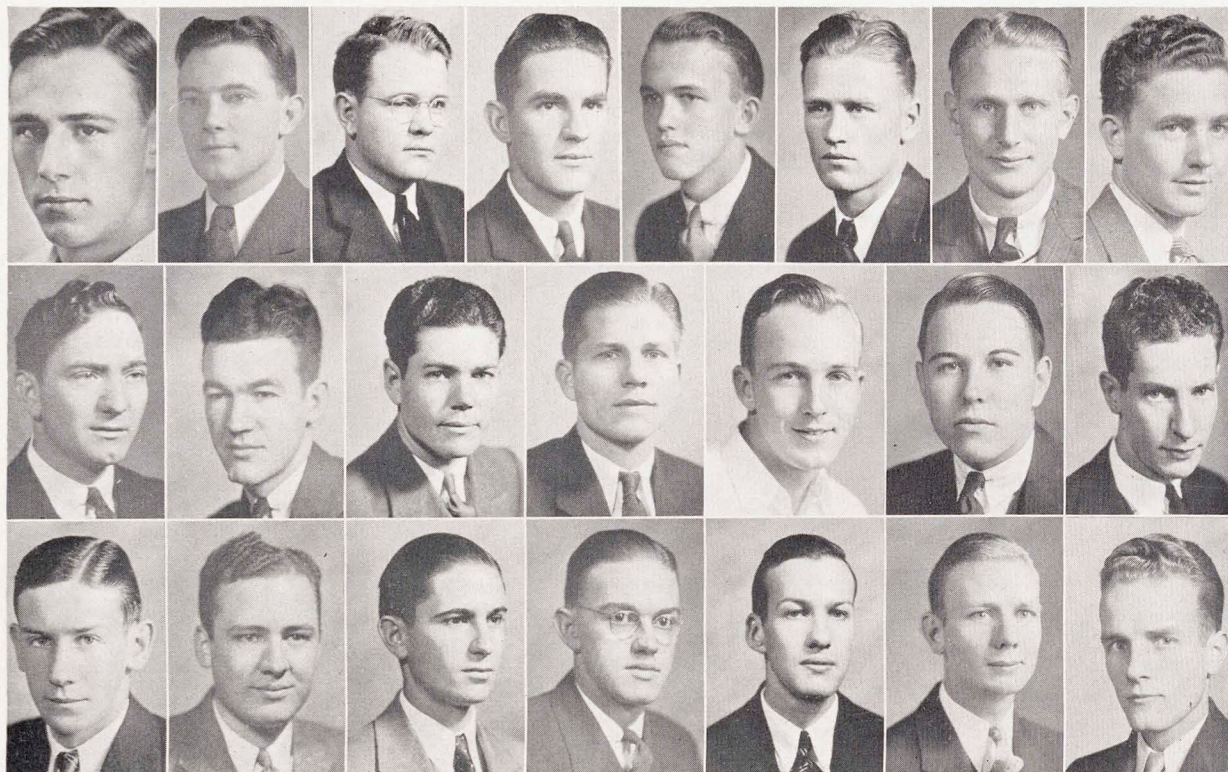

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at the University of Virginia March 1, 1898, by Frederick Southgate Taylor, Littleton Waller Tazewell, Julian Edward Wood, Robert Norward, James Benjamin Sclater, and William Alexander. At first the fraternity was sectional, being confined to the South, but conservative expansion has resulted in an organization which is located in the larger institutions throughout the country.

At present the fraternity numbers seventy-nine active chapters, and has numerous active alumni chapters scattered throughout the United States.

Alpha Zeta chapter of the University of Arkansas was chartered November 2, 1904, there being ten charter members. It was established early in the year 1905, and was the first chapter west of the Mississippi.

The Shield and Diamond, the official publication, is issued five times a year, containing news from all the chapters and topics of fraternity interest. The secret publication of the fraternity is the Dagger and Key.

In the spring of this year the chapter house pictured above was abandoned in favor of a house on Church Street, which is now the fraternity's home.

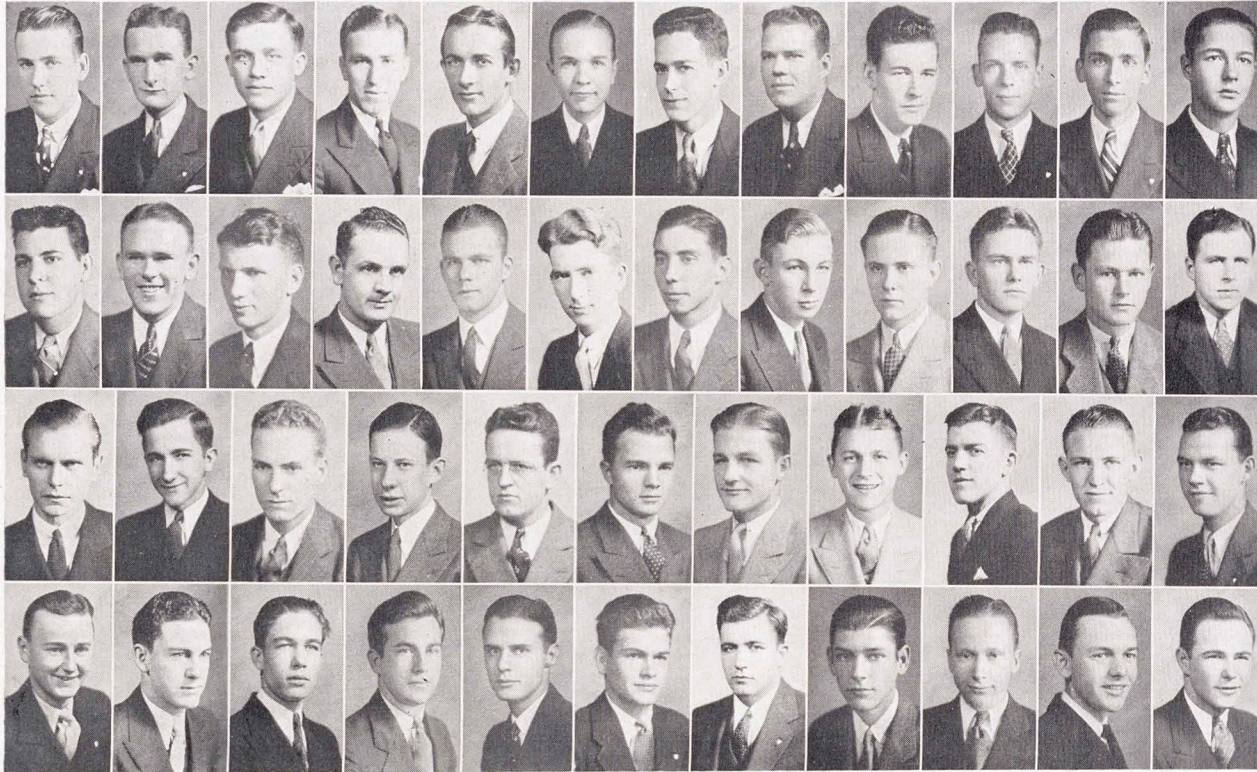

SIGMA CHI

Sigma Chi was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on June 28, 1855, by Thomas C. Bell, James P. Caldwell, F. H. Lockwood, who, with the exception of the last, had been members of Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon. It was the nineteenth college fraternity founded and the third to be founded at Miami University, the other two being Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta, which, with Sigma Chi, form the Miami Triad. The fraternity was first announced as Sigma Phi, but in 1856 the name was changed to Sigma Chi, due to the fact that the ritual and records of the chapter were stolen and that there existed at that time an eastern fraternity known as Sigma Phi.

The fraternity was carried on during the Civil War by a very unique group, the Constantine Chapter, which was composed of seven Sigma Chi's who were in the Confederate Army. Its purpose was to perpetuate the fraternity in the South, regardless of the outcome of the war. Two initiations were held and the chapter remained active until the close of the war. Sigma Chi was the first Greek-letter fraternity to adopt a private publication, which was established in 1877.

Sigma Chi consists of 91 chapters that are active, and 20 that are inactive. Two of the chapters are in Canada. The official publication is the Magazine of Sigma Chi.

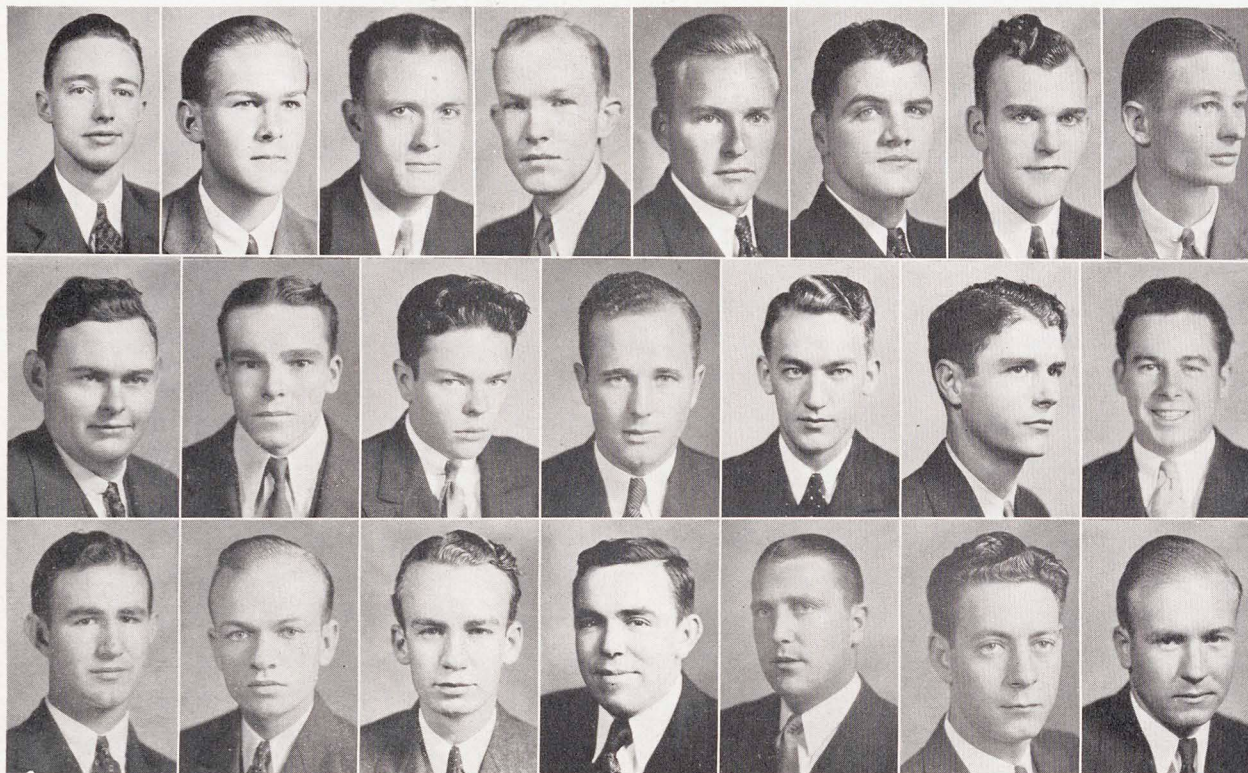

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded at Richmond College (now the University of Richmond), Richmond, Virginia, in November, 1901. The basis of the organization was a society called the Saturday Night Club.

One of the features of the fraternity is the financial plan. Concerning this, Baird's Manual says: "In 1916 the Purdue chapter surrendered all its property to the alumni who devised a plan of operation, since copyrighted by the fraternity as the Purdue Plan and now known as the 'Sigma Phi Epsilon Plan of Finance.' Under this plan financial affairs of the chapter are entirely in the hands of the alumni, the inexperienced undergraduate being relieved of this burden and so left free to devote all time to fraternal matters. The plan which worked so successfully at Purdue has been installed in all the chapters."

Arkansas Alpha chapter was installed at the University of Arkansas in 1907. The publication of the order is the Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal, published monthly.

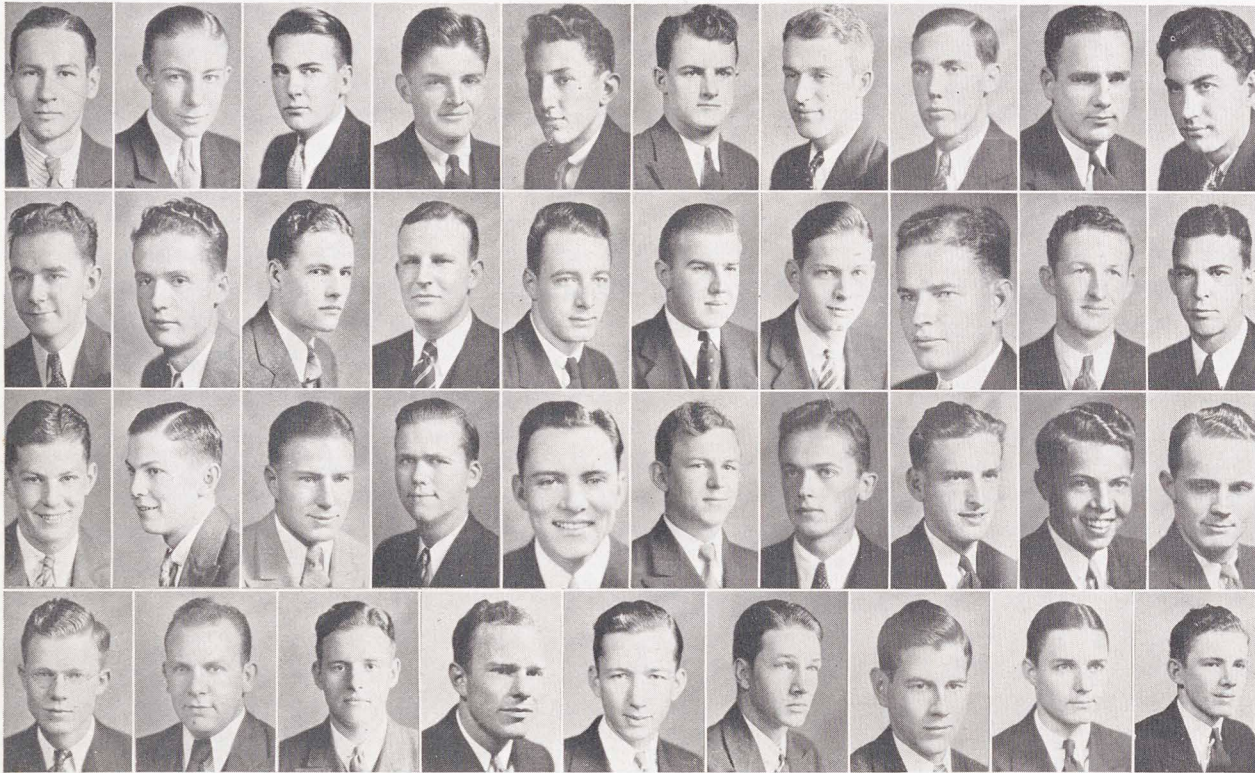

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity was founded at Boston University, growing out of the Cosmopolitan Law Club, which had been organized in 1905. The Club was the parent of the first Zeta of the fraternity, Alpha, which was naturally at Boston.

The fraternity has now a total of eighty-four chapters, all of which are active.

The headquarters of Lambda Chi Alpha are at Indianapolis, Indiana, under the managership of Bruce H. McIntosh, administrative secretary. It has two full-time salaried secretaries who make chapter visitations twice a year.

The two major ideals of the fraternity are "Service" and "Fraternalism".

Theta Phi Delta was founded at the University of Arkansas November 1, 1923, by Garland Stubblefield and Phil Deal. It was chartered as a Zeta in the national fraternity May 24, 1925. The publications of the fraternity are the "Cross and Crescent," the Song Book, the Directory, and the "Delta Pi."

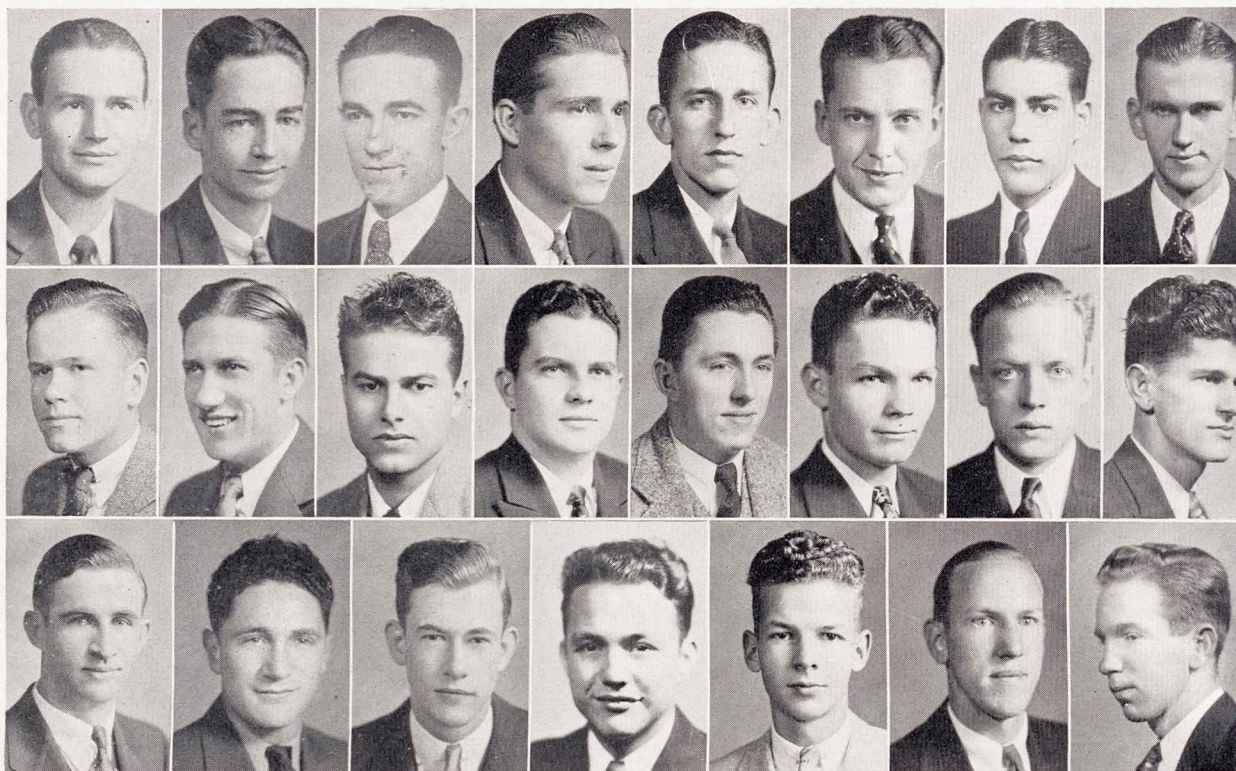

THETA KAPPA NU

Theta Kappa Nu was never founded; it was amalgamated. If founding dates back to the first chapter of a fraternity, Theta Kappa Nu was born in 1867 at Culver-Stockton College in Missouri. But in this consolidation decade Theta Kappa Nu represents the merger plan applied to the fraternal world. At a meeting in Springfield, Missouri, in 1924, eight old established locals and a small national fraternity of three chapters assumed the same obligations. Theta Kappa Nu then is unique in having no mother chapters.

There are fifty-five chapters of Theta Kappa Nu. Arkansas Alpha, in accordance with national rules, owns its home. Activities and scholarship have been the stressed features of the local group.

Plans for the future of Arkansas Alpha of Theta Kappa Nu are for intensive improvements in the form of restricted pledging of new men; extensive improvement in favorable publicity as pertains to scholarship, morality and good will.

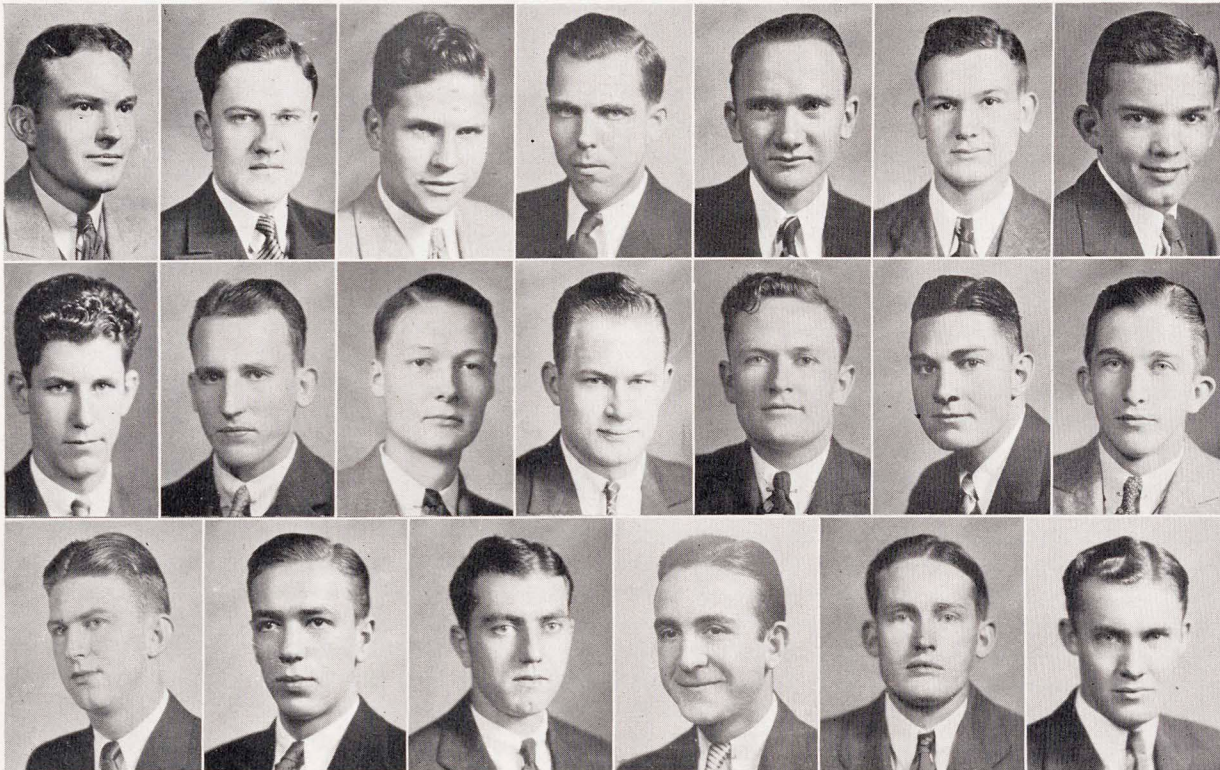

ALPHA LAMBDA TAU

Alpha Lambda Tau was founded at Oglethorpe University, October 8, 1916, the first fraternal organization on the campus. The prime motive of the founders was the desire to have a new fraternity grow with a new university. For ten years there was an unconfirmed opinion among the members that the fraternity was to be forever confined to the South. Several years ago, however, this subject was discussed in convention and repudiated. Since then the lone northern chapter has been established at the University of Illinois. The fraternity was founded to be a national organization, and although expansion has been extremely slow, a national survey has been carried out through the Central Office during the last four years.

The government of the organization is centralized through a Central Office located at Atlanta, Georgia, and a yearly convention in which all chapters participate legislates on important changes and measures affecting the organization.

The fraternity issues a quarterly known as the Rose Leaf and a monthly esoteric publication, The Alt. The first named, during the early years of the fraternity, was issued irregularly, but in recent years has been published regularly.

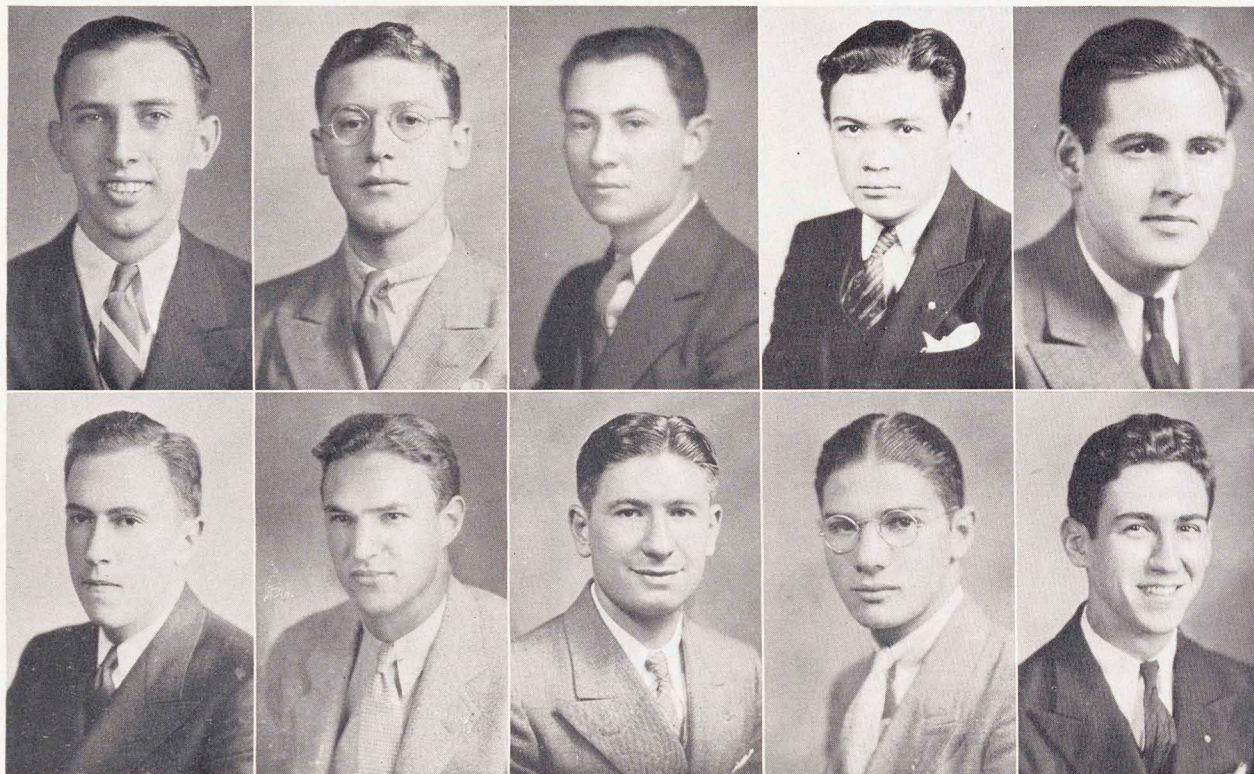

KAPPA NU

Kappa Nu was founded at the University of Rochester, November 11, 1911, by six men, who had as their ideals Cooperation, Unity, Brotherhood and Altruism.

The organization, due to a policy of internal strengthening, expanded slowly, until at the present time it has twenty chapters, situated throughout the United States. In 1931 Upsilon Chapter was established on this campus. Thus Kappa Nu brings to Arkansas the first Jewish national fraternity. The chapter previously existed as the Phi Epsilon local fraternity which was organized in 1930.

The government of the fraternity is vested in an executive committee and a judicial committee, consisting of graduate members, delegates from each chapter, and the National Officers. The national headquarters are maintained at Rochester, New York. Alumni chapters are also situated throughout the country.

A national convention is held annually, to which all chapters send delegates. Publications are: The Kappa Nu, a biannual magazine. The Reporter, the confidential bulletin of the national fraternity, which is published monthly, the monthly chapter bulletins, the Kappa Nu Song Book, and the Directory.

Tau Epsilon Phi was founded at Columbia University on October 19, 1910, by Israel Schwartz, Leo H. Fried, Julius J. Slofkin, Harry Goldsmith, Julius Klauiber, Robert Blume, Julius M. Breitenbach, Ephraim Freedman, and Charles M. Driesen. It was originally founded as a professional fraternity, but the addition of the chapter at Cornell changed the organization to that of a national collegiate fraternity.

Tau Kappa Chapter of the University of Arkansas was chartered April 29, 1932. The founders are Harold Schwartz, Mac L. Levine, Moe Ushkow, Norman Riskin, Abe Alper, Abram O. Kaplan, Marvin Grossman, Rueben Yontef, and four alumni, Morris Rosenberg, Benjamin Miller, Leo Schwartz, and Maurice Gershman.

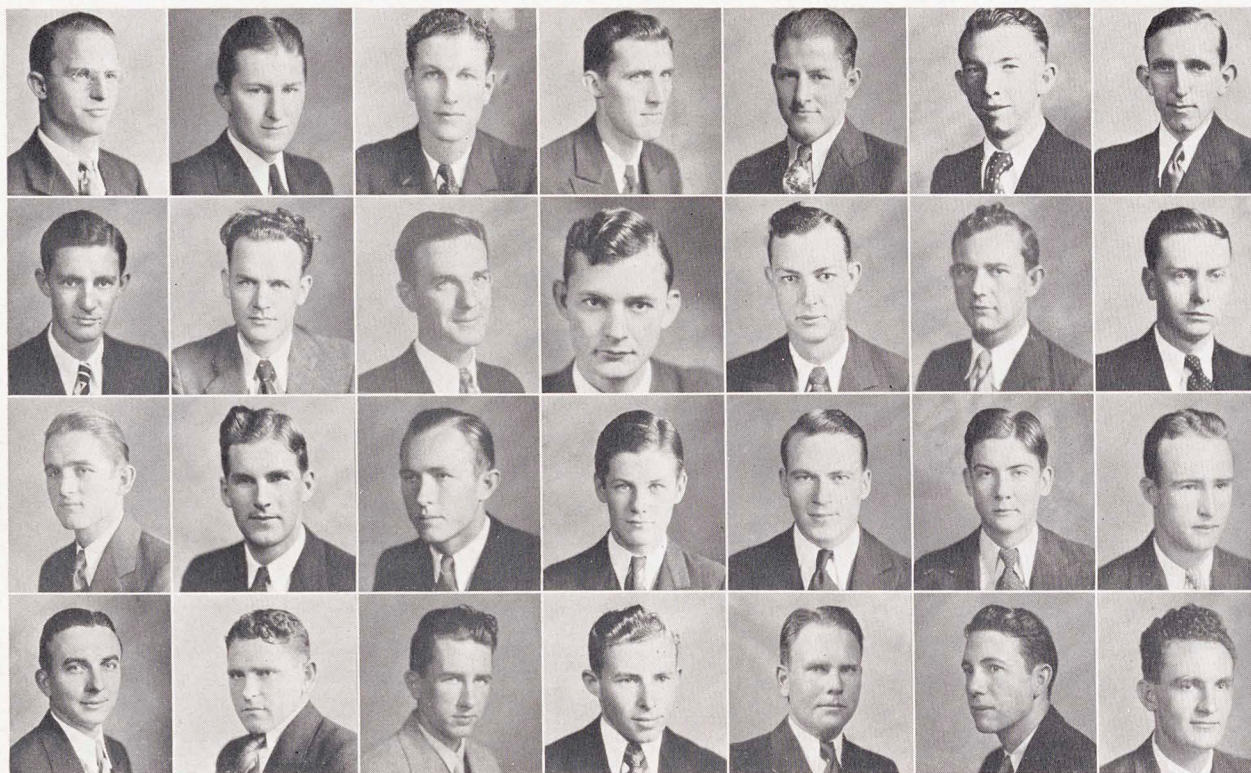

At present the fraternity numbers thirty-three chapters, and has numerous active alumni chapters scattered throughout the United States.

The official publications are the Plume, published quarterly, and the Bulletin, also a quarterly, but which is distributed only to the members.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO CLUB

The Alpha Gamma Rho Club was founded as a local social and professional fraternity in 1931. Its membership is limited to students in the College of Agriculture. The prime motive is to create an organization for men having a common interest in the same phase of work, and to bring agriculture students into closer contact with each other. The fraternity has consistently worked toward high standards of scholarship.

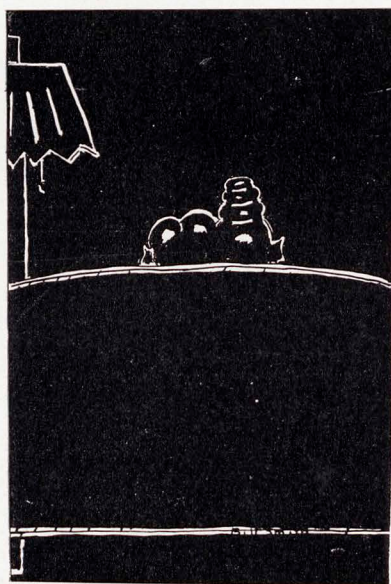

At the time this book went to press the club was awaiting word from the national agricultural fraternity, Alpha Gamma Rho, in answer to a request for a national charter. The club has been petitioning Alpha Gamma Rho for some time, and it is expected that it will soon be incorporated as a chapter of this well-known national fraternity.

The matter of securing a message from a famous engineer was not an easy one to decide; since there are so many outstanding men who have won fame through their engineering ability. It was finally determined that Major-General Lytle Brown, chief of U. S. army engineers, should be the one chosen to write a message for the Razorback military section.

Other engineers who sent messages in response to our requests were E. K. Cohan, Technical Director of the Columbia Broadcasting System; and J. A. Chambers, Technical Supervisor for radio stations WLW, WSAI, and W8XAL, Cincinnati. Mr. Chambers supervised the building of the new 500,000 watt experimental station which is now the most powerful in the world.

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega was organized at the University of Arkansas April 5, 1895, by Ina Mae Boles, Jobelle Holcombe, Alice Carey Simmonds, and Jeanne Marie Vincenheller. They were assisted in planning their organization by Dr. Charles Richardson, Kappa Sigma, who, in consideration of this service, was made sole honorary member.

There are at present eighty-seven active chapters and two inactive. The total membership is now about 16,000.

The open declaration of Chi Omega is "Hellenic Culture and Christian Ideals." Included in the program of the fraternity is the Service Fund, the income of which is used to publish special research studies in educational, social, scientific, or civic lines.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded as the Virginia State Alpha, Virginia State Normal School at Farmville, Virginia, October 15, 1898, and was chartered as a legal corporation by the legislature of Virginia March 18, 1902. Since the former date the fraternity has expanded until it now has sixty-seven chapters in the United States and Canada.

Government of the fraternity is vested in a grand chapter composed of five officers. The legislative government is vested in a convention. The fraternity's central office is located at Beaumont, Texas. Chapters of Zeta Tau Alpha are grouped in twelve provinces, with a province president appointed over each. There is a scholarship loan fund, not necessarily limited to members of the fraternity.

Epsilon chapter was established at the University of Arkansas on December 18, 1903, and was the second national womens' fraternity on the campus. The local which petitioned Zeta Tau Alpha was named Delta Phi. Epsilon was the fourth established chapter of the fraternity.

PI BETA PHI

Pi Beta Phi was founded in 1867 at Monmouth College, Illinois, and was the first organization of college women organized with the aims and policies of a national fraternity. It was originally called I. C. Sororis, but in 1888 the name was changed to Pi Beta Phi Fraternity, and as such it is incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois. The fraternity now has seventy-eight active chapters located in the leading colleges and universities of the United States and Canada. Pi Beta Phi has 144 chartered Alumnae Clubs. The total active membership of the fraternity is approximately 19,000.

The fraternity, by voluntary contributions of members and alumnae, maintains a Settlement School at Gatlinburg, Tennessee, established in 1912 as a memorial to the 12 founders of Pi Beta Phi. Situated on over one hundred acres of its own land in eight well-equipped buildings, the school offers work covering eleven grades. It has an enrollment of nearly 150 and a teaching staff of nine members.

Arkansas Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1909. A new $40,000 home was completed in February of 1931. The publication is "The Arrow".

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Delta Delta Delta was founded at Boston University, Thanksgiving Eve, 1888. The founders, Eleanor Dorcas Pond and Ida Shaw Martin, on that day associated with them twenty undergraduates and organized as a national sorority. The spirit of Delta Delta Delta has so been shared that there are now seventy-six college chapters and eighty alumnae chapters in the United States and Canada. Delta Delta Delta now numbers in its membership more than 15,000 women.

The local chapter of Delta Delta Delta, Delta Iota, was granted a charter November 15, 1913. The anniversary of the chapter is celebrated annually by the return of Tri Deltas from all parts of the state to the chapter house for the Delta banquet given on that day.

Delta Delta Delta sponsors three endowment funds, the National Endowment Fund, the Trident Endowment Fund, and the Visiting Endowment Fund. The sorority is now building up a Thanksgiving Endowment Fund which is to be used for altruistic purposes among college women to further higher education. The three publications of Delta Delta Delta are the Trireme, the Triglyph, and the Trident.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, in March, 1870, but did not make its public appearance until October 13, 1870, the anniversary of which date is observed as Founders' Day. There are now sixty-three active chapters, including three in Canada; nine inactive chapters, and ninety-nine alumnae associations. The total membership of the fraternity is over 17,000.

The management of fraternity affairs is in the hands of the National Council. The fraternity is grouped into ten geographical provinces, which hold biennial province conventions, alternating with the year of the National Convention. The central office is located at Columbus, Ohio.

The fraternity sponsors various philanthropic funds, among which are the Rose McGill Fund and the Students' Aid Fund. The latter was founded in 1902 as a memorial to the founders, and now totals $52,000. It is available as scholarship loans to any woman student in the institutions where Kappa has a chapter.

Publications of the fraternity include a quarterly magazine, "The Key," the song book, and a catalogue of members.

DELTA GAMMA

Delta Gamma was founded at Lewis School, Oxford, Mississippi, on January 2, 1874. It was the first national women's fraternity to have its beginning in the South. There are forty-six active chapters, twelve inactive, and its membership is about 12,000.

Five editions of the catalogue have been published since 1888, five of the song books since 1895 (a sixth now ready for publication), and two histories since 1901. The journal is the "Anchor," which has been published annually since 1884.

A $50,000 student loan fund provides to assist worthwhile undergraduates.

Delta Gamma's outstanding philanthropic work is the Delta Gamma Clinic in Marchienne, Belgium, which was established during the war. $28,000 was raised for the Belgian refugee children.

Alpha Omega chapter was installed April 10, 1930, at the University of Arkansas.

One of the most interesting phases of the work on the Razorback this year was the correspondence carried on with famous leaders in the various fields of endeavor represented in the respective Razorback sections.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, was in Europe at the time we were seeking a message to introduce the administration section, but his secretary sent regards to education students. Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, was also out of town at the time we wrote him concerning the organizations' section message, but was kind enough to write when he found our letter on his desk upon returning to Chicago.

Phi Eta Sigma is an honorary organization for students making a 5.00 or better their freshman year. Its purpose is to encourage those freshmen who show marked learning ability.

The organization was installed in 1931 by Dean Herbert Smith of the University of Illinois, who is national secretary. Since its inception with an enrollment of twelve, it has grown increasingly under the guidance of Dean G. E. Ripley, faculty advisor.

Tau Beta Pi is an honorary society founded at Lehigh University, June, 1885, under the leadership of Professor E. H. Williams. Its purpose is to confer distinction upon those students who have maintained a high grade of scholarship, and to foster a spirit of liberal culture in the engineering students in the institutions where its chapters are located.

When a chapter is established it may confer its key upon its alumni and students of earlier years in analogy to a similar custom in Phi Beta Kappa. Membership may be offered to graduates of engineering colleges where there is no chapter, provided the recipient has fulfilled the regular eligibility requirements as a student. Membership of distinction may be conferred upon prominent engineers who may or may not already be members of the society.

Alpha chapter has been active since its establishment at the University of Arkansas in 1914. Election is considered one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon an engineer.

Scholarship, development of agriculture, and brotherhood among members may be listed among the purposes of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity. During this school year 1932-1933 Arkansas chapter has listed to its credit several achievements of note.

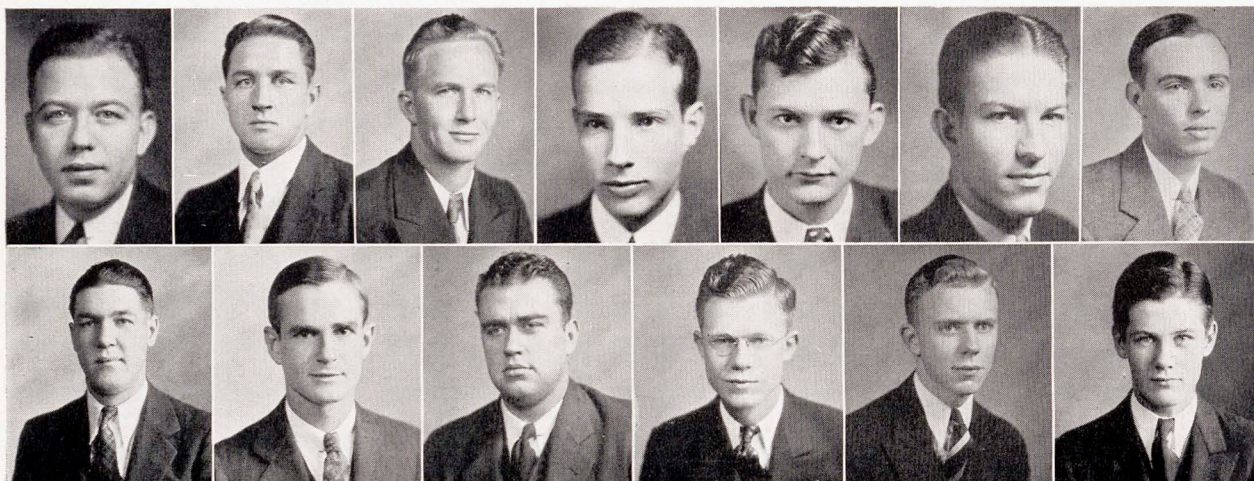

Each year the Arkansas chapter presents a loving cup and a plaque. The cup is awarded to the highest grade-point agricultural freshman who returns to college the succeeding year as a sophomore. The plaque is presented as a sweepstake trophy to the winning team in the State Agricultural Contest sponsored by Alpha Zeta in co-operation with the Agricultural Education Department.

The Arkansas chapter was founded in 1917. It numbers among its alumni some of the most prominent agricultural workers in the South.

Blue Key, honor fraternity, was founded at the University of Florida in October, 1924, by Major Bert C. Riley. A national organization was established in February, 1925. Blue Key recognizes outstanding qualities in character, scholarship, student activities, leadership, and service. Membership is composed of graduate and undergraduate students of all departments of American colleges and universities. Honorary membership is extended to a limited number of faculty members and alumni. The fraternity is committed to co-operate with the faculty; to study student problems; stimulate progress and promote the interests of the institutions where it has chapters.

The badge is an oblong key of gold on the surface of which appears a spread eagle; in the mouth of the eagle is a wreath; at the feet, on the lower left point of the cross, is a star. Outside of the oval in which these symbols appear, the corners of the key are brilliant azure blue.

Alpha Chi Sigma, honorary fraternity in chemistry, was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1902. Its membership is drawn from students of chemistry who intend to make some phase of the subject their life's work.

From the date of its founding and up to 1922, the fraternity was made up of its collegiate chapters and alumni chapters, but during the year 1922 there began a division of the organization into two general branches, one of them consisting of the collegiate chapters and the other of the professional chapters.

Alpha Kappa Psi, professional fraternity in business administration, was founded at New York University in 1904. Beta Zeta chapter was established here as an outgrowth of the Commerce Club in November, 1928. The fraternity has 52 active chapters in schools of business administration in leading universities of the United States and Canada.

Beta Zeta chapter last year won the national efficiency contest, a competition involving scholarship, activity, research work, etc., and this year placed seventh among the 52 chapters.

The chapter has sponsored many services to the School of Business Administration, including speeches of interest to commerce students. The chapter gives a scholarship award to high point juniors and seniors in the business school each year.

Theta Tau was founded at the University of Minnesota on October 15, 1904. It was from the first intended to be a professional engineering fraternity to inculcate high ethical and professional standards and to foster close fraternal relations among its members. Membership is limited to students of engineering of "personal worthiness and of promising engineering ability." Its scholastic standards are high. It does not permit its members to join other engineering fraternities except honorary or scholastic organizations.

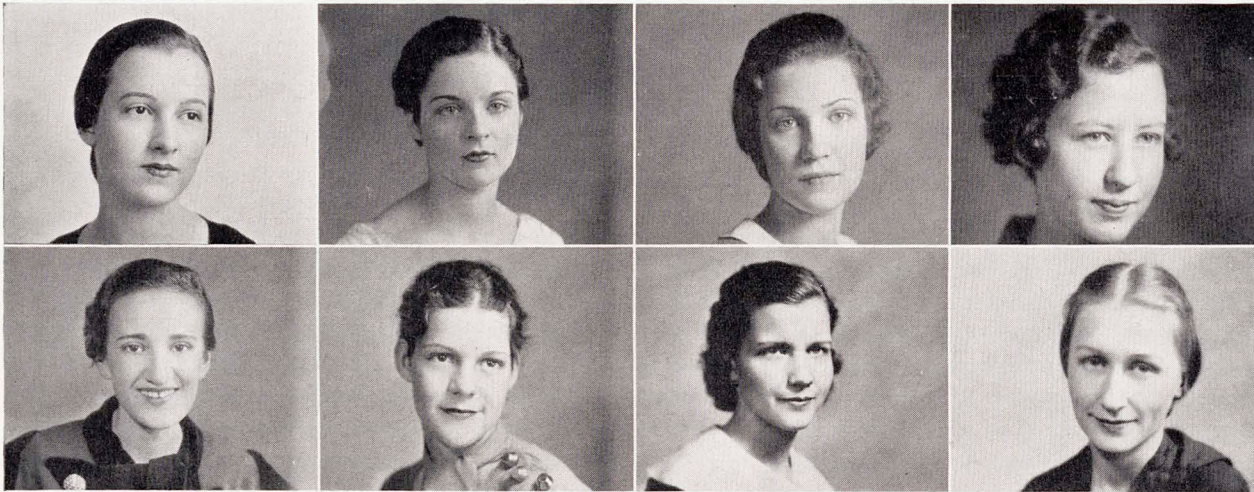

Until 1911 the fraternity was also known as "Hammer and Tongs," but in that year the Greek letter name which now appears on the badge was adopted.

Upsilon chapter was established at the University of Arkansas in 1928, and has been consistently active in Engineering School affairs.

Octagon, local honorary organization for outstanding senior women, was founded at the University of Arkansas in May, 1929, but did not make an official appearance on the campus until the following school year, when the members met, elected officers, and drew up a constitution.

The organization was begun under the leadership of Miss Martha Reid, Dean of Women, who has held up before the group a prospect of Mortar Board, a national organization for outstanding women.

The name, Octagon, was chosen by the local group from the fact that there were eight members originally selected, and the group has determined to adhere to the practice of pledging only one from each of the seven sororities and Carnall Hall. The purpose of the organization is to develop and encourage in young women the qualities of service, leadership, and scholarship.

Pi Kappa, a woman's professional journalistic sorority, was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1927. Membership of the group is made up of women who are planning to take up the profession of journalism, and only those who have shown marked interest, originality, and ability along this line, as well as having done consistent and creditable work on student publications, are recognized by the sorority.

The purpose of the organization is to promote the interests of the profession and to bring about a more consummate feeling of co-operation and understanding among its members.

Much constructive work has been done by the organization. Pi Kappa published a special edition of a daily newspaper, and a Pi Kappa edition of the Arkansas Traveler during the spring. Pi Kappa started a new tradition on the campus this year by giving a luncheon for the twenty-five most outstanding women on the campus.

Blackfriars, national honorary dramatic fraternity, was organized at the University of Arkansas in 1913, by Roger Williams. The fraternity started with only a few workers and has always maintained a policy of exclusive membership. Entrance is to be had only as a result of strenuous competitive tryouts which are held before judges from the faculty and from the fraternity.

In its initial performance of this year, Blackfriars presented "The Second Man" by Behrman. The play was directed by Russell Burnett, and major parts were taken by Virginia Pryor, Willard Smith, Phyllis Houston, and Sidney McMath. A very sophisticated production, it was well received by the student body.

The second performance, titled "The Perfect Alibi", was a very entertaining murder mystery by A. A. Milne. This play was directed by Karle Friar, and was presented early in December.

Phillip Barry's "Holiday", a three-act comedy, was the first play of the second semester. Russell Burnett directed the production, with Nell Borden, Jean Foutz, and Sidney Blakely taking leads.

The final presentation of the Blackfriars members was "The Swan", by Molnar, one of the most beautiful productions ever given on the University of Arkansas stage. Much of the credit for the success of this play (and others as well) goes to the director and sponsor, Russell Burnett, who has been so gracious in the donation of his time and talent in the interests of the organization.

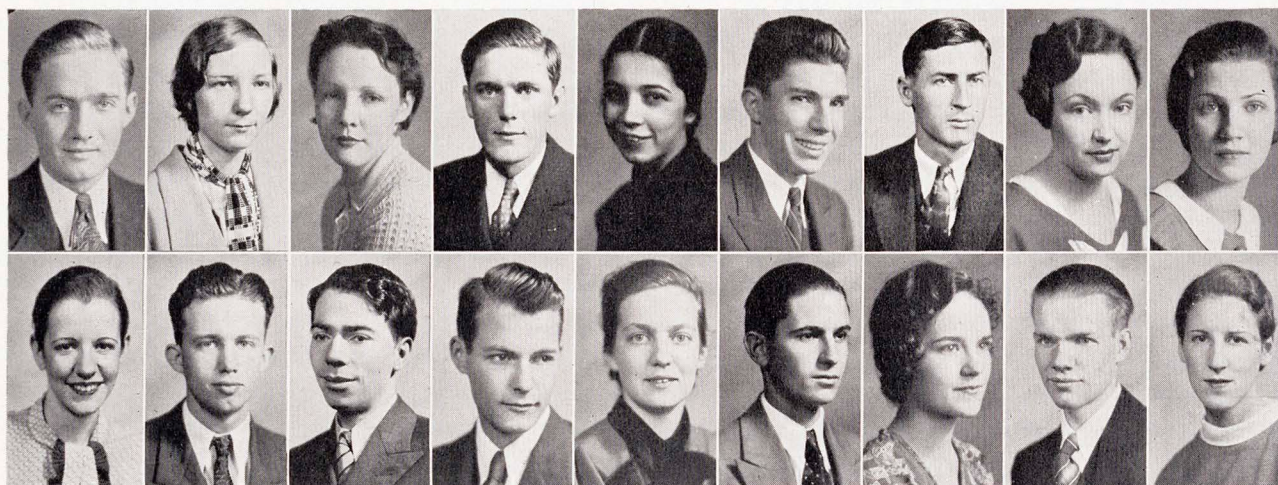

During the year Blackfriars pledged: Audrey Evans, Mary Jo Rogers, Sara Drue Hamberg, Katherine Steel, L. A. Graham, Billy Eads, Annette Harley, Kathryn Bell, Caroline Beall, Mary Lasley, Mary Jane Thompson, and Sidney Packales.

Plans for the following year are already under way, with Eli Leflar, president-elect, already busy seeking suitable plays. Blackfriars contemplate reviving "Ten Nights in a Barroom" as the first production of next year.

Pi Mu Epsilon has grown out of the Math Club, an organization founded at the University of Arkansas on February 11, 1919, by a group of students interested in mathematics. The group was under the direction of Dr. W. L. Miser. The fraternity exists as a laboratory media for the study of higher mathematics.

Among the charter members of the club are A. M. Harding and Davis P. Richardson. E. E. Stevenson, president of the club in 1922, was the recipient of a Rhodes scholarship.

Pi Mu Epsilon requires a candidate for membership to have an average of 4.00 in mathematics. The organization is recognized on the Arkansas campus as a lively one—serving a purpose beyond merely offering itself as another organization for someone to belong to.

The National Society of Lambda Tau was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, by a group of English scholars. Beta chapter was established on the campus of the University of Arkansas in 1923.

Membership in the organization is limited to those women students of the University who have displayed literary ability. The aim of the society is to create a greater interest in literary activities and to encourage originality by associating together girls who are really interested in the work.

This year the weekly meetings were marked by readings of original compositions by the members or by reviews of current books. A competitive contest for literary compositions was sponsored by the club in the spring.

Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity, was founded June 12, 1903, and was chartered in the early part of 1904 by seven women music students in the School of Music of the University of Michigan. There are now fifty-eight chapters.

The object of Sigma Alpha Iota is to form bodies of representative women who shall, by their influence and their musical interest, uphold the highest ideals of a musical education; to raise the standards of productive musical work among the women students of colleges and universities; to further the development of a stronger bond of musical interest and understanding between foreign countries and America; and to develop loyalty to the Alma Mater.

Sigma Omicron chapter, a strong link in S. A. I.'s chain of service and high ideals, was installed November 25, 1925. The chapter has four patronesses: Mrs. Harry Shultz, Mrs. Fred L. Kerr, Mildred Gillespie, and Mrs. Bert Lewis.

Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary society in education, was founded on March 18, 1911, and became incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois as an honorary educational fraternity June 8, 1911. Alpha Beta chapter was established at the University of Arkansas in February, 1924. There are now eighty-seven chapters of Kappa Delta Pi dispersed throughout thirty-five states with a membership numbering more than 17,000.

Qualifications for membership consist of junior or senior standing, a grade point in the upper quarter, twelve semester hours of education, continued interest in the field of education, and desirable social qualities. Members of the faculty of the College of Education are eligible for membership.

Phi Alpha Beta, honorary art fraternity, purposes the development of stimulating contacts between students and faculty members interested in art; so that each member of the organization may obtain a broad and inspiring view of the art field and work more intelligently and skillfully in that field. Membership is made up of students in the art department who have done consistent and creditable work in the mediums of art, and who show marked originality and ability along those lines.

This year Phi Alpha Beta sponsored an exhibit of Japanese prints, another exhibit of well-known prints, and had a program on the evolution of sculpture in the auditorium. The club also acted in a social way with a banquet and a tea during the spring semester.

The Pre-Med Club was reorganized at the University of Arkansas last Fall after several years of inactivity. The work of organizing the new group was led by Joe Sackler and several other students who desired better co-operation and a closer unity among students preparing for the study of medicine. The purpose of the club is to encourage pre-meds in their work and to promote interest in the field of medicine and associated sciences.

Dr. Harrison Hale, head of the Chemistry Department, has acted as sponsor for the Pre-Med Club. Presidents during the year have been Joe Sackler, Lawrence Hobson and Edward Gold.

A. B. C. is a pep club for men on the University of Arkansas campus. In addition to furnishing yell leaders and taking a leading part in pep at the games, the club arranges such things as details of the homecoming celebration, pep rallies, parades, etc. Another duty members of A. B. C. have taken upon themselves is the regulation of the freshmen at all football games.

Rootin' Rubes was organized at the University of Arkansas in 1925 for the purpose of fostering all university activities and to encourage college spirit and loyalty among the students. It was organized as a little sister club to the A. B. C.'s. Its membership is composed of representatives from all campus groups, four of its members being chosen from each sorority, Carnall Hall, and town.

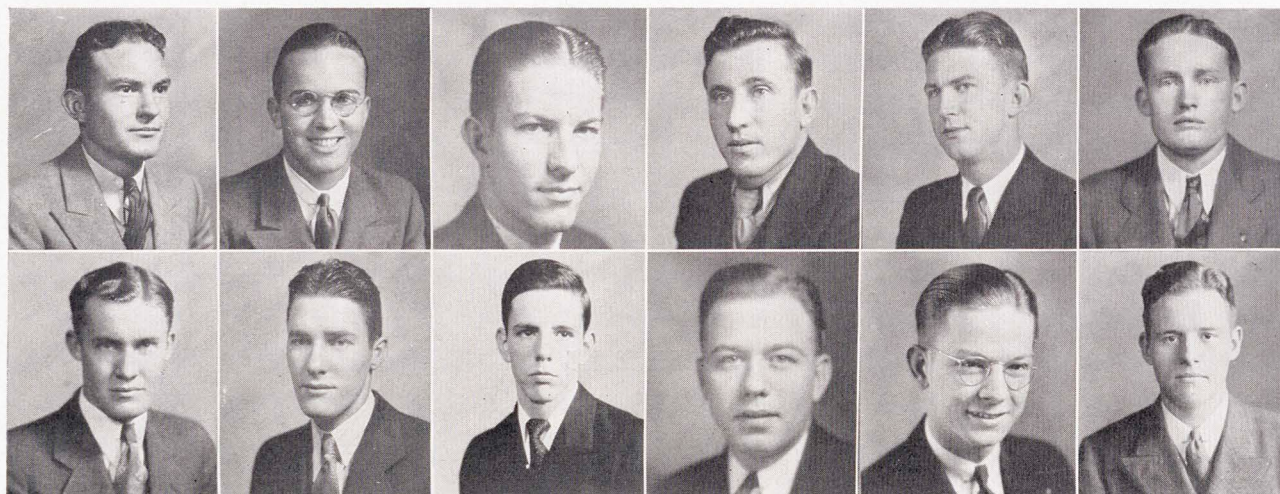

All senior letter athletes were presented Razorback blankets by the organization this year, and the Rootin' Rubes sponsored the placing of a bronze football near the stadium in honor of our 1933 championship football team.

The club also functions socially. At various times during the year, the members serve tea in the Y. W. C. A. room in the main building.

Deutscher Verein is now completing its fifth year since its reorganization in 1929 following a long period of inactivity. Under the guidance of Dr. A. E. Lussky, faculty advisor, the club has enjoyed a most successful year.

The outstanding feature of the year's program was a two-act miracle play, under the direction of Mrs. Rathje, which was presented in the auditorium.

The purpose of the Women's League is to promote good fellowship and co-operation among the women students at the University of Arkansas, and to uphold the standards of honor, scholarship, and loyalty to the school.

During the past year the Women's League has sponsored several noteworthy ventures. One of these was an all-women's banquet in October. The speaker and guest of honor was Judge Camille Kelley of Memphis, one of the most outstanding of Southern women. She has an intimate knowledge of youth through her contacts with young people as judge of the Juvenile Court of Memphis.

It is the custom of the League to give a scholarship of twenty-five dollars to an outstanding university woman each year. The holder of the award for the present year was Lodene Fuller.

Agri Day Association, better known as A. D. A., is the organization which sponsors the annual celebration of the students of the College of Agriculture, Agri Day. The association was formed in 1917 and has continued to function each year in the presentation of a carnival featuring exhibits from various departments of the Agri college, a parade, and an Agri Ball. Floy Mainard reigned as queen of Agri Day this year, while Howard Eoff served as A. D. A. manager.

In addition to sponsoring the activities of Agri Day, the association is in charge of arrangements for an annual "Barn-Warmin'," given soon after the beginning of the school year, and a spring picnic and barn dance at the University Experiment Station farm. Each student of the College of Agriculture shares in the expenses of these enterprises, and each has a vote in the election of A. D. A. officers.

The Branner Geology Club, named in honor of Dr. J. C. Branner, former state geologist, was organized in 1925 for the purpose of promoting interest in geology.

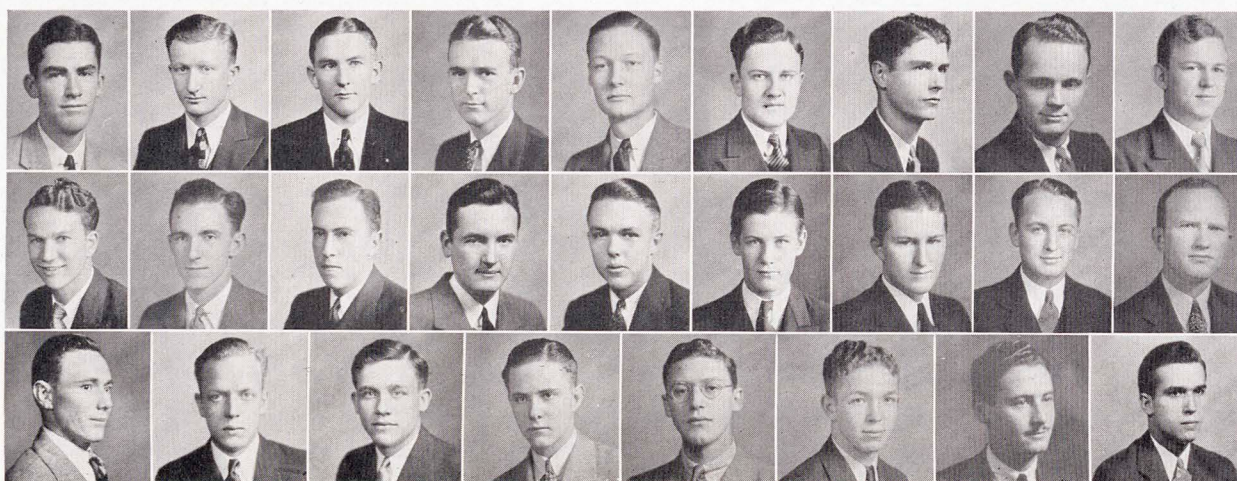

Meetings are held each month for the presentation of papers and discussion of matters pertaining to geology. The club also makes it a point to take at least one field trip each year.

The chief requirement for membership in the Branner Geology Club is an active interest in geology, the importance of which very few students realize.

The Vigilance Committee, as its name implies, maintains vigil over the life of the lowly freshman that he may not fall into error. And if he does fall into error and walks on the sacred senior walk or neglects the dinky green cap which must always repose on his humbly bowed head . . . woe be unto that freshman if the Vigilance Committee finds it out. Erring frosh have been known to call hogs in the main hall, eat hamburgers at the Chi Omega dining table, wear baby bonnets, and do all manner of strange things at the whims of this committee's heartless members. There is but one consolation for the poor frosh: there's a new year dawning; then the oppressed of 1933 can be the oppressors of 1934 when the fortunate ones take their places on the Vigilance Committee and lay down the law to their successors in freshmanhood.

The General Engineering Society is a student organization which has general supervision over all activities of the College of Engineering. Every Engineer, whether freshman or senior, is entitled to membership and the rights and privileges of the college as a whole.

The major activity sponsored by the G. E. S. is the annual day of celebration known as Engineers' Day, usually held the Friday nearest St. Patrick's day. This year the engineers chose Charles Black, a Lambda Chi Alpha from Corning, and Mary Herget, a Chi Omega from Paragould, as St. Pat and Engineers' Queen. St. Pat knighted senior engineers at a special convocation and generally presided over the events of the day. Exhibits were set up in all departments of the Engineering College, and the day ended with the annual Engineers' Dance, with St. Pat and his Queen leading the grand march.

The University of Arkansas student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineering, a professional organization formed over nineteen years ago, has for its purpose the creation of more friendly relationships with other students of mechanics, to create an interest in all subjects in that field, and to help graduates to advance in the mechanical engineering profession.

Meetings are held monthly, at which time projects are discussed and papers are presented to the group for study. The A. S. M. E. has worked out a seminar plan whereby members may obtain credit by presenting a paper on some assigned subject and by attending three-fourths of all meetings.

This year the organization sponsored several worth-while projects, including the building of a successful two-cylinder airplane engine.

A peculiar situation developed in regard to the message which introduces the Advertisements section of the Razorback of 1934. We sought a word of encouragement to future business leaders from Charles S. McCain, the Pine Bluff boy who has won success as one of the country's greatest business executives.

At the time of writing Mr. McCain was chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National Bank of New York City. Just a few weeks before this book was due to come out, it was announced that he had resigned this position and had accepted a post as President of the United Light and Power Company, one of the great utilities companies of the country.

The cover features several decorative orange lines. A thick vertical line runs down the left side, intersected by a horizontal line. To the right of this, there are several horizontal lines of varying thicknesses, some of which are slightly offset or have angled ends, creating a layered, architectural effect. A rectangular orange box is positioned in the upper right quadrant, containing the title text.

"I cannot but feel that the radical changes now being affected in our economic life offer college-trained business men opportunities such as never existed before. Have courage and confidence--maintain vision and perseverance."

C. S. McCain

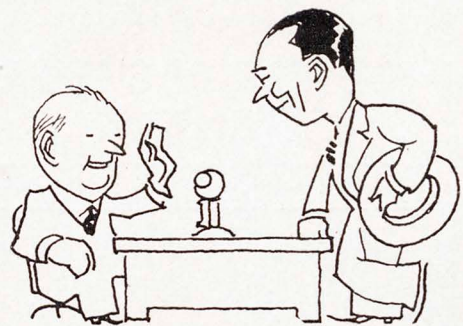

THE staff of the 1934 Razorback wishes to express appreciation to the business men who have placed advertisements in this section. By advertising in the Razorback they have shown their willingness to co-operate in student activities. Hence these merchants are the ones who deserve your patronage. Please do your part by trading with Razorback advertisers.

We also wish to thank Mr. L. F. Hetlage of the Von Hoffmann Press, Razorback printers, for his assistance in the preparation of this section.

26 Years on the Square
Mail Orders Promptly Filled

We are restoring in this 1934 Razorback a semblance of a humor section, a thing unknown in Razorbacks of the past two years since the infamous "Hog Wallow" was justly cast out. This section is inserted in an attempt to make a fresh start toward replacing low humor with wholesome fun in the pages of the University of Arkansas annual. Every bit of the copy you find interspersed between the advertisements in this section has been approved by the faculty censor board.

We realize that it is a difficult task to please the faculty and the student body at the same time. However, we submit this rejuvenated humor section in the hope that it will meet with your approval.

LONE-ELK REAVIS

Get out your hankies, friends, for here is a sight to wring your heart. This is none other than poor old Speed "Lone-Elk" Reavis. Formerly the play-boy of the campus, Speed has courted every woman in a radius of a hundred and fifty miles. Now it is all over and he has nothing to do but study law.

Was there ever a more heart-breaking tale? Speed's voice gets husky and his eyes fill with tears when he tells about it. "Them was the good ole days," says he. "When I was good I was very good, but when I was bad the girlies liked me better."

WHO'S ZOO

Reading from left to right, this happy family group is composed of Bull Erwin and his contented stooges, Mark Sherland and Johnny Mac Smith. Ernest Deane, the self-effacing young gentleman in the rear, became discontented, and, wandering out of his own pasture, fell in with Jay Dickey's herd.

"It pays to be discontented," he has bellowed all this year, after receiving the fat appointment as chairman of the social committee.

Moral: Keep out of cow pastures, especially in the spring.

WHO'S ZOO

Here they are! The pride and joy of Fordyce, of Arkansas, of the gut bucket, of Kappa Sigma—the Jordan twins. Reading from left to right, Clark (also called Plato) and George (also called Aristotle). They are wearing their customary intellectual expressions, but smiling a bit because they have just been voted membership in Phi Beta Kappa. Would that there were more deep thinkers such as these!

Rosie "Lord Chesterfield" Rowles, the guy who sets the styles for everybody in the city of Carlisle, illustrates what the well-dressed man-about-town will wear this summer. The club is a special touch, both ornamental and useful to a man of Rosie's delicate physique. It serves as a protection on dark nights. The grass skirt is also extremely becoming. However, Rosie plans to take up hula-hula lessons soon, and is also taking a law school course in the art of playing the ukulele.

Here are two of the most talented square dancers on the campus. They are Jimmie Shelton and Marjorie Hunt. At present they are going to town on the Carioca, but they also excel in the Zebra Fling and the Tiger Stomp. (Note: It is always wise to reinforce the floor boards beforehand.)

Hunt's costume, as any discerning person can see, is very charming. She has one that is much more interesting, however, it is exactly $10\frac{7}{8}$ inches shorter. Her wisdom in the selection of costumes makes us predict a promising future for her.

"The Biscuit that Builds"

Since this is a book dedicated to the future of University of Arkansas students—here's a little scene in the future lives of some of our outstanding law students.

The speedy gent in the rear of the ambulance is Kiki Hunt, who is proving that he is a fast man. He is a member of the firm of Hodges, Hunt, Scott, and McLeod, the best shysters in the city of Prairie Grove. The firm uses Kiki to chase the ambulances, since some have said that he is better equipped for running than for some of the other things lawyers are trained to do. Hodges, Scott, and McLeod take care of the deeper and more serious end of the business. It is their job to kidnap the insurance company's witnesses, bribe the judge, pal with the jury, etc.

The boys have always found it a most profitable practice to take the client for a ride after he gets judgment from the insurance company; then there is no long and involved argument over how much the fee shall be—the firm takes it all.
